Newton Bail Is Rejected

OAKLAND (AP) — Black Panther Leader Huey Newton, convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of a white policeman, was sentenced today to 2 to 15 years in prison.

The precise term will be set later by the California Adult Authority.

Newton was convicted after a nine - week trial of being responsible for the death of policeman John Frey in a Negro neighborhood last Oct. 28. The trial was highlighted by allegations of white racism.

Superior Court Judge Monroe Friedman passed sentence after denying motions for a new trial and for release on bail.

Charles Gary, defense attorney for the man who founded the Black Panther Party, said he would appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Gary protested the denial of bail, saying the appeal would take 18 months to 2 and one-half years.

"Unless bail is granted, he will be putting in all this dead time without recompense," the lawyer said.

PETITION FIGURES

He introduced an armload of petitions which he said carried 29,301 signatures asking that the 26-year-old Negro be released on bail.

The petitions referred to Newton not only as Black Panther minister of defense but also as a Peace and Freedom Party candidate for Congress.

They said he "is deeply needed in the community to be free to continue his important work."

Prosecutor Lowell Jensen successfully opposing bail, said, "There could be another form letter that could produce 250,000 signatures" against freeing Newton, but neither would be pertinent.

After sentence was pronounced, several of the 30 courtroom spectators said aloud, "Power of the people," and "Free Huey," Judge Friendman called for order in the court. There was no other incident.

Newton stood silently as sentence was pronounced. As is customary under California's indeterminate sentence system the judge ruled he should be "imprisoned in the state penitentiary for the term prescribed by law."

TO VACAVILLE

He said the sheriff should deliver Newton to the State Medical Facility at Vacaville, where prisoners are examined and assigned to other prisons.

Sheriff's deputies took Newton at once to a car for the 40-mile trip to Vacaville.

Gary said he planned to take the bail request to the State Court of Appeal and expected a ruling within a week.

Outside the courthouse, a knot of Newton's relatives wept. Garry talked to them individually and quieted them.

Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver and his wife also were on the courthouse steps but Cleaver did not hold the news conference he had intended. Word was passed that Gary had asked him to remain silent.

How Gang Beat Up Witness

By STEPHEN COOK

A former member of Johnny Lee Sommerhalder's Grim Reapers told a Marin Superior Court jury yesterday how he was drummed from the club in motorcycle gang style because of his reluctance to murder.

Kenneth Duane Mulkey, who was a reluctant witness to a Santa Rosa murder and multiple rape by Sommerhalder and the Reapers, told a tale that could have come from a Hollywood thriller.

Listening were the seven men and five women who must decide if Sommerhalder, 24, is to live or die in the gas chamber for murdering Curtis and Shirley Ackley in Santa Venetia Jan. 12.

EX-HUSBAND

Mulkey, ex-husband of Mrs. Ackley's daughter Suzanne, said his troubles began when Sommerhalder caught him talking to a Cotati policeman two days after the murder of Charles L. Kaufmann Oct. 7 in Santa Rosa.

Mulkey said he was prepared to tell the officer he had seen Sommerhalder shoot Kaufmann and, along with other Grim Reapers, rape Kaufmann's 19-year-old date early Oct. 7.

"But John came in and I just clammed up," he said. Later that night, he said, "Johnny Sommerhalder tried to kill me."

Mulkey recalled arriving home in Santa Rosa at about midnight and stepping into his living room to be jumped by Sommerhalder, who was hiding behind the door.

KNOCKED DOWN

Mulkey was knocked to the floor. When he looked up, he said, the room was filled with his fellow Grim Reapers, gathered to watch a beating.

"John told me there were certain things the guy in the club didn't want to get out and that they were going to make certain they did not get out.

"He said he was going to beat on me and then each member of the club was going to get a chance at me afterward. He said I was going out of that room feet first," Mulkey recalled yesterday.

"He beat on me, I was up and down quite a few times. When I was on the ground, he kicked and stomped me all over my body. He was wearing boots,"

One Marin Bank Drops Lending Rate

One of Marin's two locally-owned banks today followed the lead of larger banks in California in dropping the prime interest rate to large borrowers by one-quarter of 1 per cent.

Don F. Murray, Bank of Marin vice president, said that bank "will follow along with the big banks" in the reduction.

The cut is from 6.5 to 6.25 per cent on "prime loans" — those to large borrowers with top credit rating.

Chase Manhattan Bank in New York, the nation's third largest, started the procession Wednesday with a cut from 6.5 to 6 per cent.

No California bank has yet announced that great a reduction, however. Wells Fargo, Bank of America and Crocker Citizens, all of which have Marin offices, yesterday announced the drop to 6.25 per cent.

An official of Redwood National Bank, the other locally owned bank besides Bank of Marin, said no action had been taken there "as we have very few prime loans."

Mansfield Asks Cut Of Debate On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A petition to cut off Senate debate on the Abe Fortas nomination was filed today after Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen delivered a heavy blow to Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., filed the petition to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule to halt a filibuster against his motion to take up the Fortas nomination for consideration.

A vote is to be taken at 1 p.m., Tuesday on the petition. To cut off the debate will take a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

Dirksen, in a switch of his previous position, told newsmen he would not vote for cloture. And he left open whether he still favors confirmation of Fortas.

The petition filed by Mansfield had the signatures of 23 senators, 16 Democrats and 7 Republicans. Only 16 signers were required by the rules.

Dirksen was initially an outspoken supporter of President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Mansfield said the Senate will not meet tomorrow.

Mansfield filed shortly after Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., made a speech calling on Fortas, a Supreme Court justice since 1965, to resign his seat immediately.

Dirksen said that since his original support of President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren other things have become involved in the nomination. He referred specifically to testimony that Fortas accepted a $15,000 fee, raised by a former law partner from five business executives, for lecturing at a law seminar here this summer.

Foreign Aid Cuts Restored

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee restored today $313 million, or most of the funds slashed by the House, to the foreign aid spending bill.

The Senate panel approved a money bill of $1.93 billion, compared with the House figure of $1.6 billion.

President Johnson had sought $2.9 billion, an amount slashed repeatedly as the legislation moved through a Congress that has mandated decreases in federal spending.

1,900-Acre Yosemite Fire Under Control

YOSEMITE (UPI)—A five-day brush and timber fire which blackened nearly 1,900 acres and threatened two communities has been controlled.

A total of 1,050 men aided by six helicopters, six aerial tankers, nine bulldozers and 17 pumper trucks brought the blaze under control shortly after 6 p.m. yesterday.

Innocent Plea Set In Kidnaping

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—The man charged with kidnaping the 4-year-old son of a wealthy Beverly Hills banker said today he will plead innocent.

Robert Lee Dacy, 39, made the statement to newsmen after he was ordered held for trial without bail following his preliminary hearing. He will be arraigned Oct. 11 in Santa Moinica Superior Court.

Dacy was arrested after a high-speed auto chase through Los Angeles Aug. 30, two days after Stanley Stalford Jr. was snatched from his posh Beverly Hills home.

Corte Madera GI Dies Of Possible Overdose Of Drug

A Corte Madera soldier died early today of a possible overdose of methedrine at what San Rafael police said was apparently a drug party.

Richard Kenneth Yager, 20, of 367 Chapman Drive, was pronounced dead on arrival at 5:20 a.m. at Marin General Hospital.

San Rafael police booked three persons into County Jail at 10:10 a.m. today in connection with the case, charging each with being in a place where narcotics were being used. Booked were Monty Leon Miller, 19, of 75 Woodland Avenue, Apt. 4, San Rafael; Loreen Gail Edwards, 21, also of 75 Woodland Avenue, and Kathleen Ann Oatis, 18, of 1404 Buchanan Street, Novato.

A 17-year-old boy was also picked up this morning by Marin County Drug Abuse Bureau agents and was being questioned. San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said Yager, stationed in Georgia, was home on leave. The chief gave this account of events leading to his death:

MONTY LEON MILLER
As he was booked today

Yager, Miller and the two girls met the 17-year-old youth last night on the Courthouse lawn and talked about getting some speed (methedrine). Yager and the youth went to San Francisco and returned early today and went to Miller's apartment, where Miller and the two girls were waiting.

BECAME ILL

Shortly after he arrived, Yager went into the bathroom and stayed for some time. When he emerged, he appeared sick, white-faced, sweating and suffering from chills.

He collapsed in the living room. The others attempted artificial respiration, then called police at 4:46 a.m. Patrolman Martin J. Conlin arrived a minute later, followed shortly by Patrolman Barxdal W. Stinson. An ambulance arrived a few moments later and took Yager to Marin General Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

GIRLS' CONDITION

Stinson said Miller and one of the two girls appeared to be under the influence of drugs when he arrived. The 17-year-old had left the scene.

Stinson said he found half an ounce of suspected methedrine and an ounce of suspected marijuana in plastic bags in the apartment.

Yager's brother, Robert, told the coroner's office his brother was not a user of drugs. Coroner's Investigator Keith C. Craig said he found several needle marks, one of them apparently fresh, on Yager's left arm.

ARRESTED BEFORE

Miller was arrested for selling methedrine during February's countywide narcotics raid, and was sentenced in July to seven months in Marin County Jail. He was given credit for time already served, however, and was recently released.

Chiesa said information will be turned over to the district attorney's office for possible prosecution.

Funeral for Yager is pending autopsy at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

LISBON (UPI)—Marcelo Caetano, a 62-year-old lawyer, took office today as Portugal's new premier with a pledge to make some changes in the government which critically ill Antonio de Oliveira Salazar had headed for 40 years.

Kettenhofen Asks Houseboat Codes

An emergency ordinance should be passed to halt the indiscriminate influx of houseboats and other "mobile homes," Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen of the Marin County Board of Supervisors said today.

Meanwhile, 25 representatives of houseboat dwellers on Richardson Bay met with county officials last night to learn of actions to be taken by the county.

Kettenhofen today complained of "an unfilled gap of critical proportions in our county ordinances" and "indiscriminate mushrooming of haphazard, improper housing" along Richardson Bay.

Kettenhofen said he will ask the board of supervisors Tuesday to pass an emergency ordinance that would stop "any further construction of, or bringing into the county of, any housing structure without permit from the county.

The chairman said there is no difference between a houseboat and a trailer house and suggested that the water homes come under the same health, safety and zoning restrictions as the landlocked mobile homes.

All housetrailers must have self-contained facilities for waste disposal, why not houseboats? Kettenhofen asked.

"It has further come to mind that there has been a substantial increase in infectious hepatitus among the people living in these types of quarters. It is possible if this condition is considered endemic, it may be necessary to impose a quarantine to prevent an epidemic," he said.

Donald R. Frost, county director of public works, said he told the houseboat dwellers last night that they can expect visits soon from county inspectors.

"We are trying to clear up the most glaring violations at this time," he declared.

He told the ark dwellers that a code for houseboats and marinas, incorporating sections of various building codes and including some aspects of safety, is being written.

Wilson O. Fensler, a houseboat dweller at Gate 5, who led last night's meeting, said those attending last night's meeting will report to their respective yacht harbor groups and will meet again on Fensler's houseboat at 8 p.m. to form an organization of houseboat owners.

Those at last night's meeting came from the Kappas, Tellis and Arques yacht harbors.

Ike Is Better, His Wife Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wife of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today "the general is very much better."

Former President Eisenhower is in Walter Reed Army Hospital recovering from a series of heart attacks.

Mrs. Eisenhower made the comment in answer to a question at a news conference launching a campaign to recruit volunteer workers for the Republican presidential nominee, Richard M. Nixon, and his running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland.

Symposium On Racism Starts

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A week-long symposium on racism opened at Sacramento State College today with an appearance by Dr. Benjamin Spock, who pledged "I will continue to work for peace until I drop over dead."

Spock held a news conference before addressing a capacity crowd in the school gymnasium, which holds an estimated 3,000.

Others who will appear on the student-sponsored program include Eldridge Cleaver, the Black Panther party leader who became the center of controversy over his informal appointment as a lecturer in a University of California experimental course.

Ball Resigns U.N. Job For Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced yesterday the resignation of George W. Ball as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and named Washington Post editor James Russell Wiggins to succeed him.

Ball said he plans to join the campaign forces of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee for president.

"I have taken this step so that I may devote all my time and energy between now and Nov. 5 to help assure the election of Hubert Humphrey and the defeat of Richard Nixon," the Republican nominee, Ball said in a statement issued at the State Department simultaneously with Johnson's announcement.

Johnson called reporters to the White House Cabinet room to give them the news personally — and he sought to make plain that Ball was not quitting out of disagreement with administration policy.

"I have accepted with reluctance the resignation," Johnson said.

"As you see from his announcement of his resignation, it has nothing to do with public policy — but it has to do with domestic politics."

Ball, 58, was a long-time undersecretary of state during the Kennedy administration and the earlier years of the Johnson administration.

He was brought back to public service last April 25 when Johnson named him to the U.N. post, succeeding Arthur J. Goldberg. Goldberg is also assisting in the Humphrey campaign.

Capture Of Accused Kidnap-Slayers Told

SAN JOSE (UPI) — The arrest of Leonard E. Maine and Thomas E. Braun last Aug. 22, 1967 was described yesterday during their trial on charges of murder, kidnaping and rape.

The 19-year-old Ritzville, Wash., pair is accused of killing Timothy Luce, 17, near his Ukiah home and kidnaping, assaulting and shooting his girlfriend, Susan Bartolomei, 18.

Lt. Robert W. Andre, a Tuolumne County sheriff's officer, said the arrests followed the discovery of a suspect car outside a hotel in the Sierra community of Jamestown.

Andre said he and California Highway Patrolman William Endicott, also a prosecution witness, cleared everyone out of the hotel and stationed officers around the building.

The officers then went to the rooms taken by Maine and Braun, who had registered as Mike and John Ford.

The door of the first room was held by a chain lock. Andre said he ordered the occupant — Maine —to unlatch the door. He did so and was then handcuffed by the officers.

When the officers broke into Braun's room down the hall they found him asleep. He was also taken into custody.

Officer Endicott said a search of Maine's room produced a satchel containing two guns, including a .22 caliber pistol the prosecution contends was used to kill Luce.

A pair of blood stained tennis shoes was also found in Maine's room.

The jury of seven men and five women also heard the testimony of Dewey Cocchi, an ambulance attendant who rode with Miss Bartolomei to a Sonora hospital after she was found badly wounded along a mountain road.

Cocchi said the girl was unconscious when she was put in the ambulance but she regained consciousness several times.

"She opened her eyes and looked at me," Cocchi said. He said she spoke to him but the conversation was ruled hearsay and he was not allowed to repeat it for the jury.

Raps 'the buffoons'

U.C. Regents' Decision Hit By Cleaver

IRVINE (AP)—Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver vows he will make 20 speeches to University of California audiences in defiance of a regents decision limiting him to one lecture in an experimental course at Berkeley.

Cleaver spoke yesterday at U.C. at Irvine as one of four members of a panel on racism.

"The buffoons said I could deliver one lecture instead of 10," Cleaver said. "I am going to deliver 20. And when the time comes I'm not going to pay my income taxes. I'm not going to be a dollar bill to Lyndon B. Johnson's fund-raising machine."

The 33-year-old ex-convict, awaiting trial at Oakland on an attempted murder charge, called for self determination for Negroes, exemption for blacks from military service and release for blacks from jail "because they haven't had fair trials.

"We have a right to self defense no matter what Ronald Reagan says, no matter what Billy Graham says, no matter what my momma says. We are not interested in riots. We are interested only in organizing black people."

School Could Begin Monday In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay announced today the major problems in the crippling 10-day teachers' strike had been resolved and said he expected schools to open Monday. But the union president was less positive.

Albert Shanker, president of the striking 55,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, said "some movement" had occurred and it was "possible for schools to open on Monday if the remaining issues are ironed out."

THIRD EFFORT

Their comments followed the mayor's third mediation effort in three nights but the meeting did not include the members of Brooklyn's embattled Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimental local school board, focal point of the dispute.

Lindsay said the meeting between union representatives and the city's board of education had considered implementation of the strike-ending plan proposed by the board and which he has endorsed.

"Further discussions will be held later today on the details of the implementation," he said. "It is now expected that the schools will be in operation Monday upon approval by the union's legislative bodies."

10-DAY HALT

The strike has halted classes for most of the system's 1.1 million pupils for 10 of the first 12 days of the fall term. The issues are job security versus full community control of schools.

The union walked out over the community board's refusal to reinstate 10 teachers it dismissed last spring and another 100 who walked out in sympathy.

Rev. C. Herbert Oliver, chairman of the Ocean Hill board, said after the Lindsay announcement, "We have not been notified of anything."

Oliver said the local board and school administrators would not resist the physical return of the teachers but replied "I can't get into that" when asked if the community might resist their reurn.

The walkout began Sept. 9, continued for one day, then the schools opened for two days after a settlement was announced.

Sonoma Officials Shy At Bay Government

By BONNIE BARD

SANTA ROSA —Fears of a Bay Area regional government turning into a "bureaucratic monster" were voiced by southern Sonoma County officials yesterday at a discussion here sponsored by Citizens for Active Discussion of Regional Organization.

Recognizing the need for cooperation on a regional basis, Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam said reasonable controls to preserve local autonomy must be specifically spelled out before enactment.

Petaluma City Council voted last spring to withdraw from the Association of Bay Area Governments.

"The receipt of federal funds will be contingent upon participation in regional governments, and Petaluma will be in a critical condition when that happens," she predicted.

Joining this opinion was Leigh S. Shoemaker, Sonoma County supervisor, who said, "One terrific bureaucracy would be created with a regional government at the sacrifice of local autonomy."

Shoemaker said regional organizations should be limited to handling the mutual problems of recreation, refuse disposal, water pollution and regional airports. He held that regional government officials should be elected locally.

Stanley E. McCaffrey, president of the Bay Area Council, pointed out that "we already have regional government in the form of single-purpose districts such as the Bay Area Rapid Transit and air pollution districts," but contended, we need a regional government to coordinate the agencies because they overlap and sometimes conflict."

He said it need not be called regional "government," since that connotes a bureaucracy. He suggested it could be known as the Bay Area Organization.

McCaffrey said limitations of power could be written into legislation for a regional government so that it concerned itself only with matters that are beyond local jurisdiction.

He said such an organization would differ from the Association of Bay Area Governments since it would not be headed by city and county officials, whose regional viewpoint is necessarily secondary to local viewpoints.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Bay Area Regional Organization, headed by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, is scheduled to report to the Senate and Assembly next March.

Audubon Society Slates Events

The 1968 season at the Audubon Canyon Ranch will be described by Clerin W. Zumwalt, ranch naturalist, at a meeting of the Marin Audubon Society at 8 p.m. Oct. 4 at Marin County Civic Center.

Audubon field trips open to the public have also been announced by the society. On Oct. 12 a hike on the Bear Valley Trail in Point Reyes National Seashore will begin at 8:45 a.m. at the trail head parking lot. A trip to the Farallon Islands is planned for Oct. 27 and will leave the Spinnaker pier, Sausalito, at 7 a.m.

Former Grim Reaper Tells Of Beating By Gang Chief

Mulkey said. "I begged him to give me a break."

Mulkey said he saved his own life when Sommerhalder looked the other way and he was able to dash out of the room.

"I ran down to the manager's apartment and dived through their plate glass window. There were two couples in that apartment and I yelled for them to call the cops, that these guys were trying to kill me, then I ran out the back door," Mulkey said.

He recalled crawling into a drainage ditch in the middle of a field behind the apartment house and watching in fear as Sommerhalder and Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, cruised the nearby roads in their cars, looking for him.

Preston was also convicted of killing the Ackleys and is now on Death Row. He, too, was a Grim Reaper.

Mulkey said he fled the state two days later and moved to Utah, where he is a truck driver.

The former Grim Reaper said he watched from Sommerhalder's car early Oct. 7 as Sommerhalder shot Kaufmann through the back of the head. Mulkey said that, when he returned to the car, Sommerhalder grunted:

"The bum didn't even have any money."

Kaufmann, son of a U.S. State Department official, was a junior college student and former high school wrestling champion.

Mulkey recalled that he feigned raping Kaufmann's date after Sommerhalder threatened to shoot him if he did not participate in the gang rape with him, Preston and Jack Brockman.

Brockman has since been convicted of first degree murder in the Kaufmann case. Preston pleaded guilty to kidnaping.

He said Sommerhalder raped the girl, then returned to the spot where she lay on the damp hillside and bit her breasts.

"John said he ought to cut them off as souvenirs," Mulkey recalled for the jury.

He said Sommerhalder also once held a match above the girl's face and threatened to drop the flame in her eyes if she opened them.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

The Injured Moonlighter

Even as a youth Edgar Beaver worked hard, carried papers, played on the ball team, did church work, and took a full course in school. And so his employer, an insurance company, was not surprised when Edgar asked if he could moonlight in a department store. He got permission, just so long as his part time job did not interfere with his regular work.

Edgar worked hard at both jobs. When he fell behind, he raced to catch up. At his moonlighting job he became "salesman of the year."

Before he reached 35, Edgar had a heart attack. Bedridden, he asked for workmen's compensation but the compensation board turned him down. It said Edgar was himself at fault, he had always overworked and never got enough rest.

Edgar appealed his case — and won. The court ruled that work caused Edgar's heart attack. Both employers or their insurers must pay for his heart attack. True, no one can harm himself on purpose and then blame his job. But workman's compensation still covers a negligent worker hurt on the job, or one who takes a job knowing of its risk. So too is one who overworks, even with two jobs. If work caused the man's injury, he is covered.

In another recent case a worker was found dead of a heart attack near an electrical control circuit. His job called for him to inspect the controls every hour. Electrocution might have killed him, but evidence was lacking. His diabetic condition might also have caused the heart attack. But since he died on the job and could have been electrocuted, the workman's compensation death benefit went to his widow. "Reasonable doubts are resolved in favor of the employee."

Sometimes employment and other causes, like a disease, may jointly have caused an injury or death. Then the court may apportion the liability.

Two On Probation

Hughel Ray Osburn and Howard L. Kliever, both 21-year-old Hamilton Air Force Base airmen, were placed on a year's probation and fined $100 apiece today in Marin Municipal Court for petty theft June 24 in San Rafael. They were also ordered to make restitution.

Chief Explains Scheme Warning

Novato Police Chief Robert DiGrazia emphasized today that his warning about a shady scheme for selling water softeners was directed only at the one out-of-county company reported to be operating the scheme — not at any Marin County water softener dealer.

He said he received several calls following a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The "soft shoe" sales scheme involves "winning" a trip to Hawaii — with the gimmick that an overpriced water softener must be bought first, the price sufficient to include the Hawaii fare.

Civic Council Picks Alternate Nominees

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs recommended Wednesday that the Marin County Board of Supervisors appoint either Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon or W. Jack Adams of Novato to replace Thomas D. Hardcastle on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's board of directors.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that the council had recommended both be appointed to the single vacancy.

Rohnert Park Block Parties Scheduled

Rohnert Park residents will literally be dancing in the streets next month as Mayor Arthur N. Roberts has proclaimed October "block party month."

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan, said at least six parties are planned and will include bands, dancing, barbecues, games and sports events. Neighborhood residents are making all arrangements, but will receive cooperation from city officials in blocking off streets, he said.

ABAG Votes Six General Plan Goals

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — The Association of Bay Area Governments today set the stage for the nine-county first regional plan by adopting six goals.

The goals are: protect and enhance the environment, provide adequate housing for all persons, designate ample land for commercial and industrial use, integrate transportation throughout the region, preserve open space and provide "a sense of regional identity."

San Anselmo Councilman James F. Reed, arguing the goals were "too broad to be meaningful," cast the only "no" vote on the motion to endorse the goals.

The 43-1 vote came at ABAG's semi-annual general assembly meeting in the Hotel Claremont. The goals were proposed by ABAG's regional planning committee chaired by Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis.

The goals will be cranked into the preliminary version of the regional plan, slated for final adoption at the October, 1969, general assembly.

The preliminary plan, under public review since completed in November, 1966, has been criticized by Marin County and city officials for being too general and for failing to propose a governmental structure to carry out the plan.

Berkeley Councilman Bernice H. May tried unsuccessfully to amend the goal on housing to include all persons "regardless of race, creed or color."

The committee's mention of "all persons" meant just this, said McInnis.

Mrs. May also lost a voice vote on her proposed amendment that designated industrial land not depend on major bay filling.

The goal of protecting and enhancing the environment would preclude major filling, said ABAG's principal planner James Hickey.

McInnis, terming the plan "a pioneer effort," said the goals were "deliberately general."

Davidson Elects Two Officers

David Leydecker beat out eight other candidates to win the student body vice presidency of Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael yesterday.

Elected treasurer, from a field of seven candidates, was Paul Treanor.

At Davidson, president and secretary are elected in the spring from those who will be eighth graders and the vice president and treasurer are chosen in the fall from new seventh graders.

Woman On Probation

Barbara Jean Lane, 34, of San Rafael, was placed on six months probation today in Marin Municipal Court and ordered to make restitution for fraudulent use of a credit card July 25 in San Rafael.

Zoning Discussion Set For Fairfax

The Fairfax Planning Commission last night set a joint meeting to discuss the city zoning ordinance with the city council and County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill for 8 p.m. Oct. 24 at the Fairfax Women's Club.

The commission also granted variances to Hy Cook for a carport roof at 446 Bolinas Road and to Max Holsinger for setback on buildings at 75 Manor Road which are to be remodeled into a duplex.

The commission's next regular meeting will be on Oct. 30, because Halloween falls on the usual meeting date.

Display In Art Festival Ditched

The Mill Valley Art Commission has decided not to present a display of commission activities at the Fall Arts Festival on Oct. 12 and 13, according to Mrs. Mrs. Matthew Dillingham, secretary.

She said the commission agreed Tuesday night that it did not have enough material available to make an interesting display.

A proposal to hang paintings by local artists over the library fireplace was approved, Mrs. Dillingham said. One painting will be displayed every two months.

An application by the festival to have an art show in the library gallery from Oct. 12 to 20 was approved, Mrs. Dillingham said.

William Wayne Battersby, 63, of Point Reyes Station was found dead in his home on Mesa Road yesterday about 8:30 a.m. by a friend, according to the Marin County Coroner's officer.

Principal Bars Segregation Club For Black Students

The Black Student Union is illegal at California high schools, because state law forbids a school organization restricting membership by race, Principal Alan Ellsberg of San Rafael High School said today.

Ellsberg met yesterday with black students at the school seeking to form a Black Student Union chapter on the San Rafael campus.

He reported he gave the Negro students forms to fill out for a club charter but explained it could not be for an organization limited to members of their race.

Seventeen students and one parent, meeting with Ellsberg, presented a petition signed by 71 parents — both black and white — requesting a course in the "Negro in America."

Ellsberg said such a course is being offered at Terra Linda High School and could be taught at San Rafael if a teacher could be found and if the district board had funds to pay the teacher. The board is dipping into reserve funds for this year's high school operations.

The black students, he reported, had already organized informally with Delores White as temporary president. He said they agreed to seek a charter for an unsegregated club.

New Hampshire was the first state to declare its independence from Great Britain.

Cigarette Foe Reports Gains

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—About 21 million Americans have kicked the cigarette habit—three million of them during the past two years-according to a pioneer in the antismoking crusade.

Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the Public Health Service's National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, said yesterday a smaller percentage of youngsters are starting to smoke today than 10 years ago.

"The country can't afford to have people continue smoking when you realize that one-fourth of the total illness in the United States can be attributed to cigarette smoking," Horn asserted.

House Turns Down Senate Building Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected a bill to provide funds for a Senate office construction site, ignoring the code of courtesy that is supposed to guide relations between the two chambers.

By a roll call vote of 161 to 144 it rejected a Senate-passed bill authorizing $1.2 million for the purchase of six lots for extension on a Senate office building.

Enchanted Knolls Poll Set On Density Issue

The Enchanted Knolls Homeowners Association board last night agreed to poll by mail all residents in the area to determine support for proposed higher density on the Enchanted Knolls ridgetands, Dr. Willard H. Pennell, president, reported.

Dr. Pennell said the special meeting was called because of division within the organization over the request by developers Eugene Harder and Warner R. Odenthal to increase the density for the 73 undeveloped areas from five to eight dwelling units per acre.

A faction in the association, calling itself the Ad Hoc Committee for the Proper Development of Enchanted Knolls and led by Byron Reynolds, has been circulating a petition asking the city council to deny the request.

In August the homeowners board had voted 3-1 to support the higher density increase.

Reynolds was unavailable today for comment as to how many signatures have been obtained. The petition will be presented to the city council on Oct. 7.

Pennell said the decision to poll the residents was made because "every side claimed majority support so we decided to settle this thing once and for all."

The association expects to have the results to the poll ready for presentation to the council Oct. 7 also, he said.

Odenthal told the board the higher density is needed to make the project economically feasible and said the area will be developed in such a manner to cause minimal impact on the already developed portions of Enchanted Knolls.

Rifle Wound Is Fatal To Marinite

John Herbert Brown, 48, of San Rafael, died yesterday at Marin General Hospital of a bullet wound which the Marin County coroner's office said was self-inflicted.

Brown, of 908 Fifth Avenue, Apt. 3, shot with a .22-caliber rifle, was pronounced dead at 12:16 p.m., more than 10 hours after the shooting, San Rafael police said today.

Landlord Henry H. Norman called police at 2 a.m. yesterday after he found Brown slumped over a sink in his room, a bullet wound in the right side of his head. Brown's rifle was leaning against the wall.

Norman told police Brown was despondent over the recent loss of his job.

Brown had been sales manager for KSAY radio station, San Francisco. A native of Canada, he had lived in California 16 years and in Marin 12 years.

He is survived by his wife, Phoebe H. Brown of Tiburon. Funeral is pending at Chapel of the Hills Mortuary, San Anselmo.

Cleaver Is Denied Position On Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court has refused to put Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver's name on the November ballot as the Peace and Freedom Party presidential candidate.

The court yesterday denied without comment Cleaver's petition for a court order placing his name on the ballot.

College Trustee Interviews Continuing

Six of the 15 applicants for two vacancies on the Marin Junior College District Board of Trustees were interviewed in closed session by the board last night.

The session was the second in a series of three. Six other candidates were interviewed Tuesday.

The remaining three will be interviewed at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in Room G-1 of the College of Marin's physical education complex. At 9 p.m., in open session, the board will introduce all candidates present, then go back into closed session to discuss them.

The board will then return to open meeting and vote on the two appointments, members said. Swearing into office of the two new members will be at the next regular board meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in Room G-1, officials added.

BART Asks For Special Session Call

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Directors of the Ba Area Rapid Transit District asked Gov. Ronald Reagan yesterday to call a special session of the Legislature to solve the district's financial problems.

They said they did not favor any particular piece of legislation, but were just concerned with making up the $144 million deficit which is hampering completion of the project.

A majority of the directors said the session should be held before the Nov. 5 election, but Mayor Wallace Johnson of Berkeley suggested contacting the governor after the election "because the political climate might be better then."

A bill designed to solve the problem by increasing tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge passed the Assembly during a recent special session of the Legislature, but died in the Senate.

Reagan said he would veto a bill to raise the bridge tolls and also labeled as "excessive" the estimated $70 to $80 million in interest.

Director Harry Lange of Oakland said the governor could be using figures "which might be wrong. The figures on the interest cost just don't sound right to me. They just don't add up."

Director Garland Graves of San Francisco asked John M. Peirce, BART's financial director, for a separate analysis on the interest charge. He said Reagan "might be acting on bad advice."

Automobile Stolen

Linda A. Bonadeo of 402 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, complained to sheriff's deputies yesterday that someone stole har 1964 Chevrolet from in front of the house Wednesday night.

Town Meeting Called For Community Plans

The Marin City Council last night called a town meeting for Oct. 10 at 6 p.m. in Manzanita Community Center to enable residents to participate in community planning.

The council has reached a verbal agreement with a nonprofit organization from San Francisco to help prepare a new Marin City master plan and it wants residents to present ideas.

Rev. Samuel L. Banks Jr., council chairman, and Douglas J. Quiett, chairman of the Marin City Community Services District Board, sounded the need for unity in development and planning.

"The critical thing is for Marin City to get itself together," Quiett said. He said it was imperative for community organizations to ccordinate and show the way.

Quiett reported the support of the CSD board for council attempts to obtain a new master plan.

He said he was "greatly disturbed" over recommendations under consideration by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs to expand the Marin City CSD board and have members elected on a geopraphical basis.

"We should cut down as much as possible people from outside the community making decisions for use," Quiett said. "This is a paternalistic kind of thing. Those folks have been doing this for years."

He added, however, he agreed "with the principle" of the recommendations, which would add more low-cost housing residents in Marin City to the CSD board.

The council split into four committees last night and met the representatives of Plan of Action for Challenging Times (PACT), the master plan consultants.

Committee jobs will be to reach a formal working agreement with PACT, prepare planning grant applications, coordinate the work of services agencies in the planning process and gain incorporation of the council, formed two months ago.

Emory Curtis, director of technical staff for PACT — which was started five years ago by a group of black professional men —told the council it was important to increase the flow of private money into the community for revitalization projects.

Reverend Banks objected that taxes seemed to be taking more and more out of the community, with less returning.

"I don't think we get our fair share," he said. "That's taxation without representation and that ought to be changed."

Novato Firm Is Low Bidder On Hospital Addition

Page Construction Co. of Novato, at $336,770 was apparent low bidder on construction of a new wing of Novato General Hospital when bids were opened yesterday, according to the hospital administrator, Milton Scott.

Six bids ranged to a high of $359,258 by Charles Hendrickson of San Rafael, Scott said.

The bids will be presented at a noon meeting of the hospital board next Thursday at the hospital.

The new wing, designed by Rockwise and Watson of San Francisco, will add a new emerging department and 27 beds to the hospital, which now has 30 beds. Laboatory and kitchen facilities will be enlarged.

Assault Case

Clarence Ronnie Striplin, 20, of Marin City, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of assaulting a Sausalito policeman Wednesday. He was to appear with counsel this afternoon to enter a plea. Bail was set at $500.

'69 Chevy Nova Coupe

GM
MARK OF EXCELLENCE

1969 Nova with Torque-Drive. You won't clutch at its price.

Other economy cars may act more modest than Nova but then, they have more to be modest about.

We've done the type of things to the '69 Chevy Nova that you'd expect only from more expensive cars.

Like freshening up its already sporty appearance: Front. Side. And rear.

Like making the instrument panel design smarter, richer.

Like putting on new finned front brake drums.

But we don't rest Nova's case on looks and ride alone.

There's the rest it can give your left foot with exclusive Torque-Drive transmission. Torque-Drive action eliminates the clutch pedal and almost all shifting.

You just flick the lever from 1st to Hi, and that's it. No clutching ever.

What does this boon to stop-and-go driving cost? The price is low enough for you to be able to put your left foot in permanent retirement. And you can order it for any 4- or 6-cylinder model.

If you were comparing Chevy Nova with other economy cars, now you know.

There's no comparison.

Your Chevrolet dealer awaits.

Putting you first, keeps us first CHEVROLET

Brown Baggers End Their Drive

Brown Bag Days are over, but the "Buy in Marin" campaign goes on — although tenuously.

Promoters of the brown bag campaign as a protest to San Francisco's commuter tax called a halt yesterday.

Jack Little of Redwood City, chairman of a group that organized the weekly protest, said participation "has been greater than anticipated."

Marin commuters, however, reported seeing few lunches being carried into the city on Fridays the past month.

The death of brown bags will not mean a demise of the "Buy in Marin" drive, however.

The Independent Insurance Agents of Marin, which organized the campaign to discourage shopping in San Francisco as another protest to the tax, said it has distributed 6,000 lapel buttons and ordered 1,000 more.

Effects of the campaign, which started Aug. 25, are uncertain, however. Three large department stores in Marin report business is up, but for other reasons.

"We're having a very good month, but it's because school started a month later this year than last," said Charles W. Try, manager of J. C. Penney's and president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

He said business in downtown San Rafael was up 5 to 6 per cent, but doubted whether the "Buy in Marin" drive was the cause.

Donald Gillis, manager of Montgomery Ward in Corte Madera, agreed that the buying of young persons returning to school attributed to a good business month.

Asked whether "Buy in Marin" would be successful, Gillis said:

"It might, although I believe the best way to get them to buy in Marin is through retail development — offering better consumer services. Anything else will be short-lived."

A spokesman for the Emporium at Northgate also said students had helped business in September and said it would take "an awful lot of organization" to make "Buy in Marin" successful.

"San Francisco's going to have to hurt them (shoppers)," said Richard L. Less, president of the Northgate Shopping Center Merchants Association. He said he had seen "three or four" buttons of the "Buy in Marin" campaign in Northgate.

In San Francisco, Little said other possible commuter protests, including a "Shop Where You Live This Christmas" campaign, were being shelved pending the outcome of legal action against the tax by five Bay Area counties, including Marin.

For more than a month, Little and his group had urged commuters to bring their own lunches and stay away from downtown restaurants.

"While some restaurants report little or no effect on business, others indicate enough impact to cause concern," he said. "We never intended to have such an impact on any single segment of San Francisco business."

Little said the boycott "was designed entirely to dramatize how much the purchasing power of 187,000 commuters means to this city and to take issue with the undocumented claim that this contribution is less than the cost of city services to commuters. We think these objectives have been accomplished."

Geoff Bennett of Mill Valley, leader of a Marin County commuters group, said the restaurant boycott was organized "simply to achieve fairness and equity and we now have that in a legal outlet in the courts."

Pair Honored On Retirement

SAN FRANCISCO — Two San Rafael residents were among 12 Army officers and one enlisted man retired yesterday at the monthly retirement parade at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Lt. Col. Axel W. Henri of 9 Anchorage Court, who has served with Sixth Army headquarters since 1965, retired after 26 years of service. He saw combat in World War II and the Korean War. His awards include the Army Commendation Medal.

Maj. Harold J. Lansing of 2185 Elderberry Lane, who had been with the Sixth Army Flight Detachment since last month, retired after 21 years service. He served most of his career in aviation with units in Europe, Formosa and Vietnam as well as the United States. His awards include the Bronze Star, Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters and Army Commendation Medal.

Thieves Invade Second Story

Thieves scaled a drainage pipe and climbed through a second story window at Michael A. Gaede's home at 9 Mendocino Lane, Apt. 4, west of Novato, and stole two packages of cigarettes and $3 in change Wednesday, deputies said today.

Other burglaries reported by the sheriff's office included:

The theft of $35 worth of tape recordings from the car of William C. Shute of 95 Medway Road, San Anselmo, while the auto was parked behind the Newman Center at College of Marin Wednesday morning.

The theft of $7 from the car of George Miller of 178 Reservoir Road, San Rafael while the car was parked at Muir Beach Wednesday night.

It could have been a jagged hole

. . . but it isn't. This is the safer L-O-F windshield that "gives" on impact—tends to bulge instead of breaking through. We can install it in all U.S. cars back through 1960.

Reds Suffer Heavy Losses In Charges

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy forces swarmed out of flooded ricelands close to the Cambodian border today and lost at least 276 of their men in almost suicidal assaults on two well defended South Vietnamese frontier camps.

The two attacking forces totaled about 900 men, and in addition to nearly a third of their men, they left large numbers of rifles, machine guns, grenade launchers, radios and other equipment on the fields of battle.

The defenders reported 11 South Vietnamese killed and 100 wounded. Four American Green Beret men in one of the camps were wounded.

Coinciding with the fierce ground assaults on the camps at Thien Ngon and Phuoc Tan, west of Tay Ninh City, enemy gunners laid a savage barrage of rocket and mortar fire on the Special Forces camp at Katum, north of the provincial capital, which was the target of an attack Wednesday in which 135 of the enemy were killed.

The attacks in Tay Ninh Province and intelligence reports of other enemy forces maneuvering in the area brought massive B52 strikes.

U.S. headquarters reported more fighting in the northern provinces and three helicopters and a U.S. Marine jet were shot down there. Four of the helicopter crewmen and two Marine fliers were killed, and two helicopter crewmen were wounded.

The frontal assaults on fortified camps along the border may be an enemy attempt to draw South Vietnamese and American forces away from Tay Ninh City and Saigon.

More North Vietnamese casualties were reported along the demilitarized zone where the U.S. Marines have been on a big sweep for 10 days. Moving just south of the DMZ Thursday, 9th Regiment Marines found 36 enemy bodies in mass graves. Almost 200 such bodies have now been found in the 10-day-old operation.

American pilots flew 138 missions over North Vietnam's southern panhandle Thursday with no losses reported. The fliers said they blasted 17 trucks and 30 riverboats and laid heavy strikes on a missile site northwest of Vinh. One missile was fired but missed, a spokesman reported.

Special Session On Landscaping

A special meeting of the Marin Hospital District board will be held at 4:30 p.m. Monday in the Coral Room of Marin General Hospital to reset the date for opening bids on landscape architecture for the Community Mental Health Center.

The new date will be 7 p.m. on Oct. 29 in the Coral Room. Original date was tentatively set for 7 p.m., Oct. 15. Funds totaling $50,000 have been budgeted.

Hospital officials said no other business will be taken up.

Ross Children Report Nudist Encounter

The children told police that the man, described as in his 20s, came out of a driveway near Walnut Avenue, about 2:45 p.m. The girls ranged in age from 6 to 8 years.

Hearing In Hamilton Fatal Shooting Ends

Hearing for John E. King, a security policeman charged in the death of a fellow officer at Hamilton Air Force Base, concluded late this morning.

The pretrial hearing, held in a white cinder block courtroom in the judge advocate's office, was similar to a civilian grand jury investigation.

Capt. Perry I. Foster, who conducted the proceedings, will recommend in approximately three weeks whether King should stand trial (court martial).

His findings will go to Col. Michael J. Stublarec, base commander, and Maj. Gen. Robert W. Burns, commander of the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton. Burns could recommend a general, special or summary court-martial or administrative action at the company level.

The bullet, from the gun of Airman King, 20, struck the right hand of A/1C Wesley A. Dorman, also 20, exited at the forearm and struck him in the head, lodging in the brain, according to medical testimony.

Airman Christopher J. Autieri, 21, of Evansville, Ind., a witness to the shooting in the shack early Sept. 10, testified at the pretrial of King yesterday that King had removed his revolver from its holster and was pointing it at a window of the shack, above the spot where Dorman was seated, when the weapon went off.

Autieri said that he and Dorman had casually warned King about misusing his revolver and that Dorman had raised his right hand in a nonchalant gesture to tell King to stop playing with the weapon when it discharged.

Dorman, of Phoenix, Ariz., a member of the 78th Security Police Squadron, died at Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio in San Francisco about 90 minutes after the shooting.

King, of West Plains, Mo., is charged with involuntary manslaughter and failure to obey a lawful order (a regulation restricting removal of a weapon from its holster while on duty.)

T/Sgt. Lyle D. Brakob, a member of King's squadron, said the unit had received training this summer in the proper use of firearms while on duty. On the night of the shooting, Brakob said, he had reminded members of the flight (shift) to which King, Dorman and Autieri belonged to "be very careful of your weapons."

He said he thought all air policemen were aware of the firearm regulations.

Brakob also testified that King seemed very distraught over the shooting and that he believed he was in an "extreme state of shock" when he saw King later at the base hospital.

S/Sgt. John M. Faber, another witness, said he took King to the hospital after his "body became rigid and he started to shake."

Capt. Frederick T. Graham, counsel for King from the judge advocate's office on the base, reported during the pretrial that his client had forgotten "everything past the shot; it's out of his mind and perhaps gone forever."

Graham said during a recess that he would not put King on the stand and indicated he would seek a reduction of the involuntary manslaughter charge to negligent homicide.

He said the manslaughter charge carries a maximum three-year jail penalty plus a dishonorable or bad conduct discharge, while the negligent homicide charge would provide a maximum jail term of a year and may or may not include a bad conduct discharge.

Mill Valley Youth Cited On Marijuana

Three Mill Valley juveniles have been cited for suspicion of marijuana possession during the past two days, Mill Valley police reported today.

Two 15-year-old youths were cited at 3:40 p.m. Wednesday after police found two plastic bags containing what appeared to be marijuana in their pockets.

Police said officers investigating a report of BB shooting near Corte Madera and lower Alcatraz noticed three youths running away from the area.

Police caught two and upon searching them found the marijuana. A brown paper bag which they said belonged to the third youth was also found containing $150 worth of marijuana, police said.

The youths reportedly said they had just bought some marijuana from the third boy when the police officers arrived.

A 17-year-old boy was cited at 3:30 p.m. yesterday after police found him allegedly smoking marijuana in West Blithedale Park.

Police said an officer patroling the park noticed a strong odor of burning marijuana and upon investigation found the youth with a 24-inch length of plastic tubing and a warm bowl containing the residue of what appeared to be marijuana.

A quantity of what appeared to be marijuana was also found in the youth's home, police said.

All three were released to the custody of their parents.

Session Of Council Hit By Members

An unexpected meeting of some members of the Associated Students executive council Tuesday afternoon at College of Marin has been termed "game-playing" by other council members.

Council meetings are usually held Monday afternoons. On Monday, however, president David Long announced the meeting had been postponed until Wednesday. He reconfirmed the change Tuesday morning, but sometime around noon changed it again, to Tuesday, a council member reported yesterday.

Three of the 10 voting members had told Brown they would be unable to make a Tuesday meeting because of classes.

Four were absent and all four had been elected on the Students for Academic Freedom platform, according to SAF member David Bersin, commissioner of spiritual activities.

Bersin, reporting from the minutes of the meeting, said six appointments were made, including the Associated Students representative to the board of trustees.

Named to that post was Michael Conroy, Bersin said. He said he didn't know of any past activities or offices held by Conroy.

He said the appointment "could be contested."

Other appointments included David Brown, parliamentarian, Peter Buckley and Daniel Lochmann, public relations commissioners, Terrence Tuharich, corresponding secretary and Beacon editor, and Marge Moore, faculty representative commissioner.

The only other business in the 35-minute meeting was the formation of an ad hoc committee to discuss the budget of Associated Students, Bersin said.

He said the committee had been asked to study funding of various programs now and in the future and to review the budget.

A report by the committee is expected in two weeks, Bresin said, reading from the minutes. The chairman is the treasurer, Ranald Bruce.

The committee's report would not be binding, the minutes said.

Commute Bus Riders Sought

San Marin Improvement Club is attempting to arrange for a Novato-San Francisco commute bus charter and is seeking signups for riders, Wayne Bullette, chairman of the project, announced today.

The club needs at least 41 passengers to fill the bus, he said.

The bus route will fit the convenience of the commuters, but once it leaves Novato, the bus will go nonstop to San Francisco, Bullette reported.

Car Theft Case

William Carl Smith, 19, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of stealing a car Sept. 20 in San Rafael. He was released on his own recognizance to appear Thursday to plead to the charge.

Phone Call Tips Inmate's Freedom Try

A San Quentin convict who walked away early today was promptly returned to a cell because he called the prison from Sausalito to tell where he was going.

Lawrence C. Beddycare, 53-year-old car thief from Monterey County, walked away from the prison's minimum security ranch outside the walls sometime between midnight and 1 a.m.

He went to San Rafael, where he engaged a taxi to drive him to the Valhalla Restaurant in Sausalito.

From there he telephoned Lt. Eugene F. Zeimer, prison officer in charge, and told him he was going to San Francisco to buy his daughter a present and then heading for Mexico.

Authorities traced his call and his cab was halted by Sausalito police at the Golden Gate Bridge toll plaza.

San Quentin Associate Warden James W. L. Park said that Beddycare, who entered prison in January 1967, had been at the ranch about three days. He was due for a parole review next month, Park added.

SAN FRANCISCO —A Mill Valley artist's painting took the San Francisco Art Commission's top purchase award of $1,000 in the San Francisco Arts Festival at Civic Center Plaza yesterday.

The award went to "Fluorescent Mind Rainbow," a bright acrylic on canvas by Norman Stiegelmeyer.

It topped $5,000 in purchase awards determined by the arts festival jury. The festival will run through Sunday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily, with performing arts activities on the bandstand throughout.

Other purchase awards to Marin artists included:

Alice Jeung, Mill Valley, yellow and green gold pin, $275; David Morris, Kentfield, pot, $40; Eric Norsted, Corte Madera, planter pot, $95.

Fine arts awards of merit went to Bruce Lauritzen of Larkspur for his painting in mixed media, "Rock," and to Tony Williams of San Rafael for his acrylic, "Transducer." A crafts award went to Margot Biestman of Sausalito for a necklace titled "Dance."

Girl Left For Dead At Murder Scene Surviving

MOJAVE (UPI) — A teen-age Campbell girl, shot and left for dead in the Mojave Desert with her male companion, remained in serious condition at a Bakersfield hospital today.

Diana Bradford, 18, underwent emergency surgery yesterday after she was found along a desert highway about 11 miles east of here earlier in the day.

Before going into surgery, Miss Bradford told Kern County sheriff's deputies she and Randy Jenkins, 17, Salt Lake City, were hitchhiking to Salt Lake City. Jenkins was pronounced dead at the scene.

She said a couple driving an older model yellow Falcon picked them up near Bakersfield and drove them into the desert, where both were shot in the head with a .25-caliber pistol.

Miss Bradford crawled to the edge of Highway 58 where a passing truck driver spotted her and brought help.

Novato To Hear Plans For Campus

Theodore C. Wellman, president of the Marin Junior College District board, will describe plans for a north campus of the College of Marin to the Novato Chamber of Commerce at a noon luncheon Thursday at the Lodge.

Mrs. Billie Garl, chamber secretary, said members and others wishing to attend may make reservations with the chamber.

At a meeting last night, chamber members learned of plans for a cleanup of the downtown area on the weekends of Oct. 12-13 and 19-20. Merchants were urged to get refuse out for free pickup.

A membership drive set for Oct. 17 was also discussed, and it was announced that a new brochure giving "fair share" amounts for dues will be available for the drive.

— your opportunity to wipe out lawn weeds and save money too!

The Most Important Month In All The Year To Feed Your Lawn!

What better way to clear out weeds in your dichondra or grass lawn than to do it easily, surely . . . and economically. Scotts famous weed controls do just that. They're easy to use — nothing to mix, measure or spray. They penetrate weeds right down to the roots so they can't grow back. And they fertilize the lawn too. Make it grow greener, thicker, sturdier. You can do the whole job in less than thirty minutes (average size lawn). Then sit back and enjoy a better lawn this fall and winter too.

RAFFERTY: He Made Monkeys Out Of Pollsters

(This is the last in a series of articles on Max Rafferty, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, written for the Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram and reprinted by permission.)

By DAVID SHAW

The week before the 1962 general election, statewide polls showed Dr. Max Rafferty trailing Dr. Ralph Richardson by five percentage points in their race for state superintendent of public instruction.

On election day, Rafferty whipped Richardson by 4.4 percentage points.

The week before the 1968 Republician primary, the polls showed Rafferty trailing Sen. Thomas Kuchel by six percentage points.

On election day, Rafferty beat Kuchel by 3.2 percentage points.

Why were the polls so far off?

"Because the pollsters in California are flagrant liars," Rafferty says. "Their polls are phony, stupid and rigged."

RIGGED? How? Why? By whom?

"I don't know and I don't care," Rafferty says. "I just know my 16-year-old daughter could give a more accurate prediction of an election than they do."

Rafferty's personal experienced notwithstanding, the two statewide polls — conducted by Don Muchmore and Mervyn Field — have a generally acknowledged reputation for accuracy and integrity, and it would seem something other than deliberate misrepresentation must lie at the heart of their drastic miscalculations in Rafferty's campaigns.

The most obvious explanation is that Rafferty, in 1962 and again in 1968, unleashed a torrent of last minute newspaper advertising, televised speeches and personal appearances that had their major impact after the polls were completed.

Rafferty — for all his mistrust of the Muchmore and Field polls — does not discount the science of polling entirely. He commissioned a private poll himself early this year to determine "what issues the people wanted to hear discussed." The poll indicated the voters were most concerned about Vietnam, crime, racial unrest, federal spending and neighborhood schools.

Concentrating on those issues in the primary with the traditional ultraconservative stand — and running against an incumbent whose lackluster campaign Rafferty says still bewilders him — the state superintendent swept into the Nov. 5 general election.

"RAFFERTY has always been brilliant when it comes to picking the issues — and the stands — the voters want to hear," says Rafferty's 1962 ballot box victim, Dr. Richardson.

"He clubbed me to death with the progressive education issue, even though progressive education hadn't been used in California for 10 years," Richardson says. "He even got away with screaming that certain patriots and songs and quotations had been purged from California schoolbooks by the progressives when all the things he cited were in the very books his own district was using."

Progressive education — which Rafferty defines as education whose "primary goal is to teach the child to adjust rather than to learn, to get along rather than to strive" — was introduced in America almost a half-century ago by educator-philosopher John Dewey.

"St. John Dewey and his disciples," as Rafferty scornfully dubbed the progressives, argued that "everything is relative; there are no absolute truths, no positive standards," Rafferty told the voters in 1962. "But education," he roared, "exists to teach truths and to uphold standards."

IN AN ERA of sudden and constant flux, when long-cherished values are being vigorously challenged, the majority of the electorate found Rafferty's assurances comforting.

They didn't mind that he was blaming Dewey for excesses and abuses that horrified Dewey himself. They didn't even mind — three years later — when Rafferty went so far as to blame progressive education for the mass murders by Richard Speck in Chicago and Robert Benjamin Smith in an Arizona beauty shop. The victims of those men, Rafferty said, "adjusted to their murderers' plans."

Similarly, in an age when

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

When Cramps Result, Throw Away The Recipe

The Marin County Board of Supervisors included some strange ingredients when it cooked up a scheme for operating the new county fairgrounds and Veterans Memorial Auditorium. The resultant stomach upset is now becoming painful.

On Tuesday of this week, Harold Stockstad turned in his resignation from the board of directors of Fair-Marin, the non-profit corporation set up to run fairgrounds and auditorium. He was the third director to quit within a month, others being Fred F. Enemark and John D. La Noue.

Stockstad, acting chairman since Enemark's Aug. 30 resignation, called it quits because he said it was impossible to submit a list of 14 nominees for seven directorships. This went right back to those strange ingredients.

WHEN PLANNING for the new fairgrounds was begun, the supervisors figured a new organization should be created, rather than turn the operation over to the board of the long-successful Marin Art and Garden Fair.

No county department was in existence that seemed suitable — although conflict has since arisen between Fair-Marin and the county parks and recreation department because of some overlap of authority.

Other boards of supervisors, on setting up a county fair, have appointed a fair board, which has functioned within the county structure as parks and recreation commission, planning commission, etc., function.

This, however, was too simple for the Marin supervisors. They were tired of tested recipes. They wanted innovation.

They did what elected officials generally do when they can't make up their minds: appointed a committee—in this case an ad hoc committee to plan how to manage the fairgrounds and its fair.

EVEN SETTING UP the committee became a headache (or stomach ache). Just about every organization except the Tamalpais Stamp Club and the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation wanted representation, it appeared. As finally set up, the committee had about 100 members.

This oversize committee toiled long and wordily and finally proposed that a non-profit corporation, called Fair-Marin, be created with seven directors to be named by the committee.

The supervisors at this point reasserted themselves. They said they would name the seven directors, but the committee must nominate 14 from whom to select. Further, they said that although Fair-Marin would be a separate entity as a non-profit corporation, the board of supervisors would hold its purse strings.

That was last year.

Seven temporary directors were subsequently appointed. Four of them are left on the Fair-Marin board: W. P. Duhamel, Gary Bauer, Thomas Foris, and Mrs. T. J. McWatters. But their terms are expiring. And Fair-Marin, with its four directors and its members carried over from the ad hoc committee, cannot come up with a slate of 14 nominees for staggered three-year terms in the permanent organization.

HOW THE SUPERVISORS, or anybody else, can expect Fair-Marin to efficiently manage a fairgrounds and auditorium and stage a county fair under such a cumbersome setup surpasses understanding.

It looks a bit late for the Alka-Seltzer. The supervisors might as well call for the stomach pump and start over.

Proposition 7 Would Enable State To Finance Local Projects

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — For the next several days, this column will deal with the propositions on the Nov. 5 general election ballot.

Proposition 7 constitutes a major change in government financing. Under present constitutional provisions, the Legislature is prohibited from allocating money to local government for local purposes, but may allocate it for local use for state purposes.

If Proposition 7 is adopted, the state may allocate funds to local government which that local government may spend for any purpose designated by the Legislature.

This appears to be a simple enough amendment. Its supporters contend that it's merely a clarification of the present law, and in addition, is a step toward tax reform.

They hold it is a matter of justice to allow local government to spend the allocated funds for local purposes, in that the state usurped some of the local tax sources, such as the in lieu motor vehicle tax and the cigarette tax.

The measure is supported by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R-Modesto, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee; the League of California Cities, and the California Taxpayers Association.

Sen. James E. Whetmore, R-Fullerton, says in opposing the amendment:

"One of the basic principles of our form of government, including tax collection and spending, is that powers of government be held and exercised as closely as possible to the people most directly affected by them.

"Local governments retain final responsibility for providing local services. Proposition 7 goes directly against this cardinal principle of our governmental way of life.

"If cities and counties need more revenue, they should be required to raise it themselves, provided that city and county officials can convince their electorate that additional taxing and spending is necessary."

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

THEY'RE still chuckling in one Westchester junior high school over the day the principal heard an uproar in one room, and charging in, found a crewcut youth shouting at the top of his lungs and dancing down the aisle. He marched the offender off to his office and ordered him to stand in a corner until excused.

The principal then returned to the classroom, delivered an inspiring lecture on discipline, and concluded by asking if there were any questions. "Yes," volunteered one student. "When are you going to let our teacher come back in the room?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Up To Parents To Protect Children

On Wednesday, Sept. 18, a meeting was held at my place of employment. The theme of this meeting was "Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs". A film on LSD was obtained from the Federal Narcotics Bureau entitled "Insight or Insanity".

Our guest speaker was Sgt. (George A.) Howenstein, juvenile officer of the San Anselmo Police department. Mr. Howenstein's talk and demonstration was very interesting and informative. The San Anselmo police chief is very fortunate to have a man of his caliber on the force.

When adult men and women use these drugs, it is truly sad, and the fact that these drugs are in use in every one of our colleges, junior and senior high schools is really frightening. But when the use of these drugs and narcotics are so widespread that even some of our kids in our grade schools have to "make the scene" or blow their cool", it is simply horrifying . . .

It is obvious our police and federal agents are doing their best, but they admit that their efforts have not been effective and probably will not be in the future. . .

Yes, they are doing a good job, but we can do it better! we — mom and dad .The real problem is not to let the kid be tempted for such "junk" in the first place. I believe all children should be encouraged to join some kind of youth organization (such as) 4-H Club, Campfire girls, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Cub Scouts.

Yes, let's protect the "innocent," our kids still at home — before it's too late!

Watch Sex Series, Parents Urged

After listening to the panel discussion on KTIM about the "Time of Your Life" program, I had the impression that the two educators, Stanley Friese and Mrs. Anne Philbert, were evading all of the questions.

It was stated that the parents approved of the program, but in the Fairfax schools the parents were not notified that the children were viewing the programs, so how could they have approved the program when there were not notices sent home about it?

It is my opinion that Mrs. Philbert and Mr. Friese stressed the acedemic phases in glorious terms but ignored the bold sex aspects of the series.

We parents, in many communities in the Bay Area are not the only ones objecting to his program, several well known organizations who are very much opposed.

This program states that the parents are not qualified to teach sex to their own children. What makes our educators think there are so many uneducated parents! The parents are not informed.

I want to strongly recommend that all parents take the time to view this "Time of Your Life" on Channel 9 from 6:40 to 7 p.m .on Mondays, from 10:40 on 11 a.m. on Tuesdays and from 1:25 to 1:45 p.m. Thursdays. I also urge you to send to Channel 9 asking for the "Teacher's Guide of the programs, 1 through 15. This will cost you $1.50 for the 15 lessons but will be well worth it. . .

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Sept. 27, 1958

President Dwight D. Eisenhower named retired Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons to be his chief assistant, succeeding Sherman Adams, who had resigned under fire for accepting gifts from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 27, 1948

Bud R. Lowrie announced plans for a new $50,000 yacht harbor in San Rafael, which would nearly double the number of berths in the city-owned basin.

Nixon Merely Rafferty In Disguise

You are performing a vital public service by reprinting the Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram series on our ineffable "superintendent of public instruction." This will help cook the political goose of the great patriot. Congratulations!

Unfortunately, not enough people are aware that Nixon is merely a Rafferty in disguise and a similar series would reveal that Dick is even trickier than before. A good make-up job has been applied but it will rub off and our country will return to the path charted by F.D.R. It will take some time and considerable suffering, however.

Warren Remains Unflappable In Furore Over Successor

WASHINGTON — Solid, unflappable, unchanging through his long years of public service, the chief justice of the United States gives no outward sign that he is at the center of the storm over the judiciary.

Impeach Earl Warren, hang Earl Warren, down with the Supreme Court — these are the cries at the extremist fringe, George C. Wallace demands the end of an independent judiciary with the election of federal judges every few years. More politely, Richard Nixon suggests the court has been protecting criminals as crime in the streets is rampant.

While this clamor must be audible even in the hush of the Supreme Court's great marble temple, the chief justice goes his serene way unperturbed. He talks to no one, unless it be his brethren on the court, about his future as the angry debate rages over Abe Fortas to succeed him.

WARREN HAS JUST returned from the kind of satisfying summer that helps to explain his serenity and his good health at the age of 77. He went fishing in the high mountain country back of Helena, Mont., and in Nevada. Later he and Mrs. Warren went on a cruise along the New England coast in well-nigh perfect weather. Then he went to Geneva to represent the United States at World Law Day, an observance of the international organization, World Peace Through Law.

At 77 — he will be 78 next March — Warren moves at the same tempo that has marked his entire career. The phrase in that first all-embracing decision of the Warren court in 1954, Brown vs. Board of Education, ordering school desegregation with "all deliberate speed" expresses it well.

After his letter of last June requesting retirement, the chief justice and Mrs. Warren flew to San Francisco where he told reporters he was looking for a place to settle in the Bay Area. His roots are deep there. Five of his six children and 13 of his 16 grandchildren live in California.

Retirement would not be simply sitting with folded hands. He is too active for that. It would mean other interests. One of his concerns is preserving what is left of America's heritage of field and stream and wild life.

HIS NATIVE state has undergone a revolution in the course of his extraordinary career, with Southern California one of the centers of Warren hating and Supreme Court denunciation. Running for election as governor a second time, he carried every county in the state but one, Sierra in the north, which he lost by 61 votes. Running for an unprecedented third term he went to Sierra County and told the voters there with his chuckling humor that he was running again only so he could carry Sierra. And he did. He is the only man ever to have been elected to the office three times.

The climax of the California revolution came in the Republican primary in June. Sen. Thomas Kuchel, a moderate who was first appointed to the Senate by Governor Warren, was defeated for re-election by Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, who led the cheering against the Warren court. A far-out right winger, Rafferty is at the opposite pole from the politics of moderation that Warren practiced so successfully.

No one had an inkling when Warren was named chief justice in 1953 — least of all President Dwight Eisenhower who appointed him — that Warren would follow the bold and independent course marking the court under his leadership. This single act of appointment will in all probability rate in history as Eisenhower's most important decision.

New President Likely To Face Divided Congress

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Each day brings new evidence that the winner on November 5th whether he is President Humphrey, Nixon or Wallace, will take possession of an awesome array of problems on inauguration day.

To top off his problems the new President may have to deal with a politically divided congress.

Current polls suggest that Republicans may win the House, as their leaders claim, but leave the Senate narrowly controlled by Democrats. That would mean a GOP speaker, with his Republican leaders, dominating activity in the House while Democratic leaders scheduled floor activity in the Senate.

Not since the 72nd Congress, in 1931-33, during the final years of the Herbert Hoover administration, has Congress been divided in that fashion. That organization would not help a new President as he tries to get congressional action on the legislative initiatives outlined during his campaign.

Even if the threat of a divided Congress fails to materialize, there is little to suggest that there will be a happy "honeymoon" period in which the new President could expect rubber stamp approval of his legislative initiatives. Present forecasts indicate that majorities in the House and Senate, however aligned, will be narrow.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Reviewing The Transit Mess: Lure Of Deficit Financing

Fusselman

In working up the comparisons of the several transit potentials, with the likelihood of achievement and relating this to time and cost, I am reviewing every news story of the past few years that I have clipped and filed. Believe me, there has been no dearth of conversation on the subject.

I think it might be helpful if I repeat excerpts from these stories. They certainly induce some serious thinking. There is far too much Cloud 9 riding by the fat-salaried gentry who are tossing the ball around now — often for political effect only.

THIS BART BUSINESS shows how far out on a limb things can get when dependance is placed on others for financing. I don't think we wish to see that mistake made here. But that seems to be trap that is being constantly toyed with today.

This is the first news story. I will repeat others as we go along. In the I-Jissue of June 26, '65 reporter Richard Lyttle wrote under the heading, "Transit Business Seen For Marin": The county may be in the transit business in 1966. A 20-page report to be submitted to the county board of supervisors . . . by retired transit executive Paul J. Fanning tells how it can be done with 125 new buses and slightly extended routes.

"It will be a DEFICIT (caps are mine) operation. Fanning, who has worked for Western Greyhound Lines and San Francisco Municipal Railroad, outlined two methods of operating.

"The county can take over and operate the entire system or it can contract with the Greyhound to run it. "The first method would mean an operating loss of $294,695 a year. 'The second would mean a loss of $146,000 a year, Fanning predicts."

Administrator Alan Bruce wanted to hop right to it and said that the new operation could be going by the first of the then-upcoming year. There was no indication, which I could find, that Greyhound would be willing to buy the 125 buses or even "slightly extend routes."

SPEAKING OF ROUTES: A gentleman who lives in Novato wrote me two months ago about his experience in trying to be helpful in this field. He has had 20 years experience in routing commercial transit out of San Francisco and has done some clear thinking and projecting on bus routing, headways, and operating costs.

Well, he presented his findings to Behr (Supervisor Peter H.) but says he heard nothing more from him. Later he also presented them to Transit Mgr. Seymour Kasin, who allegedly told him he thought they were good and that he would go over them and then have a conference. Nothing doing so far. One of the interesting thing is that he shows a net yearly profit of several thousand dollars.

I asked him to send me his material and I would go over it. The papers are on my desk now and seem to be meticulously worked out. After I have gone over them and have talked with him again, I will report to you.

Question: Why, when the voters of New York State passed a $2.5 billion bond issue in 1967 to improve all phases of transport — roads, trains, buses, etc., would a man come to Marin, where financing was

RAFFERTY

Americans are being urged to collectively assume the burden of guilt for every social calamity from assassination to poverty to war, Rafferty tells them to "plead not guilty" to the charges of the "masochistic . . . fuzzy-minded, fuzzy-faced intellectuals."

That, too, is comforting to the voters.

RAFFERTY'S CRITICS say this is just what they object to most about the man — that he "comforts" the voters.

"He has extremely sensitive political antennae," says Richard Farmer, Rafferty's assistant superintendent in La Canada. "He says whatever he thinks the people want to hear."

W. D. Coombs, who also worked under Rafferty in La Canada, says the Republican senatorial candidate "wraps himself in God and the flag because he knows that's the easiest way to get elected. He'll take whatever stand is popular with the voters, and he'll change his views as public opinion shifts."

The charges of inconsistency and insincerity are hurled frequently at Rafferty, and his own words seem to give them at least some credence.

ITEM:

He spoke in Garden Grove one morning in 1964, and told a group of teachers what a "fine job" they were doing.

That night, he spoke to a group of parents in Buena Park, and told them what a "lousy job" the teachers were doing.

ITEM:

He has spoken often of the modern American soldier as a coward and a traitor who "licks the boots of his enemy."

And he has blamed that behavior on his classroom education.

Yet, in one of his books, he quotes military experts as saying this very same soldier is "the most ingenious and imaginative fighter in the history of warfare." And he attributes that behavior to his classroom education.

ITEM:

Rafferty has been such an outspoken advocate of law and order and such a critic of violence and "liberal courts" that he was the only Republican or Democrat in California endorsed this year by George Wallace's American Independent Party.

Yet Rafferty advocates instant justice — destroying a North Korean city if the Pueblo is not returned immediately, for example—"retribution that is prompt, just and drastic," a return to the frontier days when one "promptly bent his long rifle double around (a) murderer's neck, and the whole community would have turned out to string the offender up so fast, the rope would have smoked."

ITEM:

Last month, Rafferty chided antiwar demonstrators for not protesting the "brutal rape of Czechoslovakia" as vigorously as they have protested the war in Vietnam. He said they should have staged a demonstration similar to the Boston Tea Party — the 1773 "party" in which colonists boarded British ships and dumped a cargo of tea overboard to protest taxation without representation.

That, Rafferty said, was a peaceful and legal demonstration because no one was killed or injured.

But when students at Berkeley and Columbia occupied campus office buildings to protest what they, rightly or wrongly, considered administration without representation, Rafferty castigated them as "just-out-from-under-the-rock-creeps" who should be expelled — even though their actions did not injure or kill anyone.

PERHAPS the single most glaring inconsistency on Rafferty's record in the eyes of his critics is his 1962 campaign promise to reform public education in California and his performance in six years as state superintendent.

Interrogation of school officials throughout the state on what sweeping changes Rafferty has made brings only smiles, shrugs and statements like, "He has't done anything but frighten good educators."

When Rafferty first started speaking out on education in 1956, he did so with a series of articles in the Phi Delta Kappan, a national education magazine. The articles later became the crux of Rafferty's books, "Suffer, Little Children" and "What They Are Doing To Your Children," and they immediately ignited the but frighten good educators away."

IN RESPONSE to these articles denouncing progressive education and the "cult of the slob," an Illinois school superintendent named Earl Hanson wrote an essay in the Phi Delta Kappan, accusing Rafferty of "picking up straws of half-truth and building them into a whole army of straw men."

That, say Rafferty's critics, is what he did with progressive education. In 1962, they say, running on an anti-progressive education platform was like calling for the repeal of prohibition. Rafferty, said one national magazine, resurrected a dead issue, then — when he ran for re-election four years later — triumphantly announced he had slain the ogre.

What makes Rafferty's seeming inconsistencies so striking is that, as a master wordsmith, he frequently draws distinctions between an educator ("one who tells people what they ought to hear") and a politician ("one who tells people what they want to hear"), and he proudly identifies himself as an educator.

"THAT'S WHY I'll never run for any partisan political office at any time, period," he said in 1963. "No educator has ever made a good politician."

Now Rafferty is trying to prove himself a liar. If he succeeds — if he wins in November — many conservatives who feel Ronald Reagan, at 57, shot his presidential bolt this year, say Rafferty, six years younger, will make a run for the White House in 1972 or, far more likely, in 1976.

He refuses to discuss this possibility. But he could be an eight-year senator by then, and if his past actions are any indication, he will certainly be a well-known and highly controversial figure with a large, passionately devoted following.

And — on the 200th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence — he'll have a tailor-made platform ". . . a return to the spirit of '76."

ART BUCHWALD

Knock-Down Issue Of Campaign: Who Gets Presidential Bumper?

WASHINGTON — Ex-Gov. George Wallace has finally cleared the air as far as the 1968 presidential campaign is concerned. The main issue is, "If you were President of the United States, would you or would you not drive over someone who lies in front of your car?"

Wallace has been getting his biggest hand when he says, "The first anarchist who lies down in front of my automobile when I become President, that's the last automobile he'll ever want to lie down in front of."

This remark has led many Americans to believe that if Wallace is elected he will call his administration the "hit-and-run society."

IT'S INTERESTING to note that neither Vice President Humphrey nor Richard Nixon has indicated where he stands on running over people. This has come as a big disappointment to those of us who are concerned with the issue of "law and order."

The Nixon people have hinted that running over anarchists is a local matter and should be decided by the people in each community. The Humphrey people, on the other hand, feel the federal government should decide who could and should not be run over by the President of the United States.

But neither the Republican nor Democratic candidate will take a public stand on this pressing issue, and Wallace is therefore attracting every bad driver in the country to his cause.

THERE HAS BEEN some grumbling among constitutional experts that driving over anarchists is not a presidential function. They point out that it's very difficult, with the traffic the way nebulous, for less salary than he was receiving there?

it is today, to know who is an anarchist and who isn't; and it's quite possible that an innocent person could be squished to death before President Wallace realized his mistake.

Furthermore, these experts say, even if Wallace only killed anarchists, some President in the future might not be so discriminating, and could use his power to run over whomever he pleased.

But Wallace supporters have rejected these criticsms as pseudointellectual, left-wing press propaganda. They point out that there is nothing in the Constitution to prevent the President of the United States from hitting whomever gets in the way of his car. Besides, they say, there will never be any respect for the office of the presidency until a few anarchists feel the full weight of a White House limousine.

SOME OBSERVERS are worried, though, that Wallace will not be content just to run over anarchists. He has said in his speeches that if he is elected he's going to put the Supreme Court justices in their place.

This could mean any number of things. He could cut down the power of the court, he could draft all the justices into the Army, or he could drive up to the Supreme Court building at recess and see how many Supreme Court justices he could knock down with his bumper.

Whether it will come to that or not, the feeling here in Washinton is that Humphrey and Nixon cannot remain silent much longer on the "right to run over" issue that George Wallace has so ably raised.

The public wants to know not only who's finger will be on the atomic button in the White House, but also who's foot will be on the accelerator of the presidential car.

New Bill Curbs Autopsy Photos

SACRAMENTO (AP) —A new California law — sought by friends of the Kennedy family— will prevent "sensational" magazines from publishing photographs taken during the Robert F. Kennedy autopsy.

Gov. Ronald Reagan signed yesterday a bill approved a week ago during a special session of the legislature. He had vetoed a similar bill during the regular session because he said it was so broadly worded it could hamper medical education and research.

But in its new form, the law exempts "any legitimate use in the field of forensic pathology or the field of medical or scientific education or research."

Case Transferred

The case of John Eugene Fox, 18, no fixed address, charged with burglary Aug. 9 in Marinwood, was transferred yesterday by Marin Municipal Court to juvenile authorities.

Not Much Tax Increase This Year; Rewards Of Classified Advertising

Although the City of Mill Valley's tax rate for 1968-69 decreased by one cent, the tax rate Mill Valley city residents will pay this fiscal year increased by 2.5 cents.

That's the cherry word this week from Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller.

The total tax rate for Mill Valley residents is $11.175 per $100 assessed valuation this year as compared to $11.15 last year, not much of an increase, really, especially when you think back over past years, when the rate increased by a few dollars each time a new fiscal year rolled around.

However, the best news from Mitchell and his staff is that out-of-pocket taxes paid will increase very little.

The hue and cry in past years has been that tax cuts by councils and school boards didn't help the financially strapped taxpayer much since County Assessor Bert W. Broemmef was continually raising the assessed valuation of the property being taxed.

THIS FISCAL year a taxpayer with a home with an assessed valuation of $6,900 will pay only $1.73 more in taxes than he did last year. The 1967-68 tax bill for such a property in Mill Valley was $769.35, Mitchell tells us, and this year it will be $771.08.

When you consider that the cost of living is increasing at a whopping rate of 5 per cent per year, a measly $1.73 increase in taxes shows the cries of economy have had some effect.

We all must remember, cost of living increases affect city government, too.

IN CASE you're wondering, taxes paid by that typical Mill Valley city resident are: County of Marin, $2.27 rate, $156.63 in taxes; City of Mill Valley, $2.31 rate, $159.39; Mill Valley School District, $3.135, rate, $216.32; Tamalpais High School District, $2.24 rate, $154.56; Marin Junior College District, 82.5 cents rate, $56.93; schools equalization, 4 cents rate, $2.76; Mentally retarded (schools), 5 cents rate, $3.45; physically handicapped (schools), 5 cents rate, $3.45; development center (schools), 1 cent rate, 69 cents; mosquito abatement district, 2.5 cents rate, $1.72; air pollution control district, 1.1 cents rate, 76 cents; Marin Hospital Distirct, 8.4 cents rate, $5.80; flood control zone No. 3, 12.5 cents rate, $8.62.

The only taxing district which levied taxes last year but not this year was the Marin Transit District. Last year it got 5 cents or $3.45 of the tax bill.

THE LADIES in classified advertising in this office have a marvelous job. The reason for this, despite its surface routine and the occasional frustrations a dropped line, irate customer or misplaced copy, is the drama behind each classified ad.

For example: Earlier this week Lawrence M. Guibbini called to take out a want ad under "Lost." The ad read: "Reward altered male lge. white cat. Blk. freckle on nose. 9/23, 8 a.m. Virginia Dr., Little Reed Heights, Tiburon. Plastic flea collar. Named 'El Gato.' (phone number) Please!"

The next morning Mr. Guibbini called. He had gone out the previous afternoon, had cards printed with the I-J's classified ad, and distributed the cards around the neighborhood, entreating residents to call. Later that night, a call: El Gato had been seen, hot, tired and hungry on a neighbor's lawn. Would Mr. Guibbini come and get him?

So, Mr. Guibbini told the classified ad ladies, he wanted to take out another ad — this time under "found."

"Little Reed Heights 'El Gato' found and returned. Thank you one and all."

THE QUIETEST CLOCK IN NOVATO

Robert L. Guinette of 615 Olive Avenue stands proudly beside the 12-foot-high sundial he built as a labor of love in his garage. Neighbors daily check their watches against the 900-pound plywood instrument in Guinette's front yard. It took him about 80 hours to build, and he drew his own plans for it after consulting an encyclopedia. He even adjusted it to Novato's latitude. He says he wanted a sundial that would be noticed.

Cathedral Holds Youth Festival

LONDON (AP) — A swinging Anglican dean set St. Paul's Cathedral jumping today with a three-month youth festival. The idea is to draw young people "of all denominations and none" into Sir Christopher Wren's famous domed cathedral in the heart of London.

The festival was starting with a display of parachute jumping for noontime crowds just outside the west end of the cathedral by junior members of the parachute brigade. From then on, New Zealand-born Dean Martin G. Sullivan, 58, intends to keep things jumping.

The area directly beneath the famed dome was cleared of chairs to become a theater-in-the-round for the festival's duration.

There will be a "pop experience" with secular pop music, jazz and symphonic concerts, international folk dancing, the Royal Ballet, drill displays and even a fashion show in the cathedral crypt.

State College Trustees Want Panther Reassigned

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California State College trustees voted yesterday to ask that Black Panther leader George Murray be relieved of his teaching duties at San Francisco State College and be reassigned to other work.

The trustees' split vote came during a closed meeting after nearly six hours of considering the matter Wednesday night and yesterday.

Chairman Theodore Meriam of Chico told a news conference the decision was "to request the president of San Francisco State College to reassign Mr. Murray to a non-teaching position."

Murray recently was rehired for a second year as a part-time English instructor, which drew protests from various sources. He is on probation after being convicted of misdemeanor battery in connection with the beating of a college newspaper editor.

Meriam said the trustees' decision was "based on obviously great concern as to Mr. Murray's relationship to students because of—at least reported to us—participation in incidents at the campus activities last summer, and publicly reported statements."

Murray was not present at the trustees meeting.

Young Designers Show New Flair

The look of tomorrow is being created today by young talented designers who are just beginning their careers. These forward-thinking creators belong to this unique young generation that is making its presence felt in every walk of life, especially in the world of fashion. The youth of today no longer will settle for the conformity in dress of their predecessors; they are individualists and demand an original look designed especially for them, by their contemporaries.

To encourage young American fashion designers, a large department store chain three years ago established a scholarship and awards program with Parsons School of Design in New York. Parsons is generally regarded as having one of the most progressive and highly rated fashion design departments in the country. Its graduates rank among the leading couture designers in America.

As part of the program, the store makes an annual grant of $20,000 to Parsons to help talented students complete their studies. The grant provides scholarship aid, and in emergencies it may be used to help with living expenses, equipment and fabric costs. The recipient of the scholarship is determined by the school.

The awards program was established to recognize young talent and to encourage the entire student body by means of incentives in competitive programs. There are several categories in which a three year student may compete: sportswear; suits, coats and rainwear; daytime dresses; after-five dresses; and a Designer of the Year Award.

The winners are chosen by an impartial jury of top fashion designers including Norman Norrell, Rudi Gernreich and James Galanos; fashion editors and publishers; and fabric manufacturers.

This year, as a further incentive to the students, designs from the third-year students are being manufactured and sold throughout the stores of the company that sponsored the contest. Those selected were not necessarily the same as the award winners since the designs had to be adaptable to mass-reproduction. This enabled the student to see his original creation reproduced and receive recognition as a couture designer.

Five award-winning designs were selected for reproduction. The styles are young and innovating and range from dresses to coats to three-piece ensembles.

Sanford Slepak, the Designer of the Year, is a 21-year-old Parsons graduate from Santa Monica, whose talent knows no limitations. His winning design is a grey flannel dress, tailored like a shirt, but softened with lace trim on flounced cuffs and hem. The success of the dress is in the fit. It hugs the figure from a tiny high bodice and then flows into a gentle flare.

Kathleen Olivari, a 20-year-old graduate, features a green wool jersey dress with high stand-up collar, full-blown shirt sleeves and wide full skirt that's belted high under the bosom. She's from Syosset, N.Y.

Another winning design fashion is a brown knit by Kay Unger, a 23-year-old graduate from Chicago. Kay's dress is softly belted by a wide top-stitched self-fabric panel that is crossed by another wide tab leading from the center bodice to center skirt.

Also among the winners is a bright wool plaid three-piece suit, looking very fresh and new this fall with its knife pleated skirt and short vest designed by Isao Ohnishi. Isao is from Japan and was graduated from Parsons in May. His suit has a longer jacket with wide notched collar and lapels and combines brown, yellow and navy.

A bi-color coat and dress costume designed by Ann Kalinowsky of Brooklyn, N.Y., is the fifth fashion design chosen. Ann, a 20-year-old graduate, is the recipient of the John Moore gold thimble award this year. Her belted camel coat with deep chocolate brown hem is tailored to perfection. Important seaming accents the raised, stand-away collar, hidden front placket and deep hem. Under the coat is worn a matching sleeveless wool dress with the camel and chocolate brown reversed.

STRICT ATTENTON has been paid to detail on this bi-color wool coat and dress costume designed by Ann Kalinowsky, 20-year-old Parson's graduate.

SANFORD SLEPAK'S grey flannel dress with tab front and rolled coachman collar is softened with flounced cuffs and hem trimmed in lace.

THE FULL swing, a green wool jersey dress with high stand-up collar, full-blown shirt sleeves and a wide bias skirt belted high, designed by Kathleen Olivari.

THE GIANT tab, a wide belt is crossed by a giant three buttoned tab on Kay Unger's brown knit dress. The softly shaped dress has a slightly rounded skirt with front inverted pleat and low pocket flaps.

ISAO OHNISHI, a young Parson's graduate, designed this navy, brown and yellow wool plaid three-piece suit. The longer jacket is worn over matching short vest and a knife pleated skirt.

Fun Furs From Jacques Kaplan

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — People have come to expect the unexpected when fur designer Jacques Kaplan presents his annual collection. And this year's show was no exception.

From the unusual format of the show itself—actually three shows in one—to the scene-stealing fur vests designed by a 15-year-old girl, the presentation made it clear that Kaplan may be getting older — he's 44 and a grandfather now—but he hasn't lost his sense of style and salesmanship.

THE SHOW Wednesday was scheduled to take place in Kaplan's apartment, but, said the designer, "my landlord objected."

In a hastily arranged change of plan, Kaplan presented his collection in his Georges Kaplan, Inc., showroom on Fifth Avenue.

Instead of audiences on gilded chairs and models parading stiffly about, however, there were low hassocks for people to sit on and continuous showings in each of three different rooms —one for fun furs, one for men's furs and one for high-fashion furs.

Among the highlights of the collection was a stenciled calf minicoat, designed for and modeled by socialite Cathy Macauley. Stenciled into the fabric were Cathy's initials. Kaplan said he would do the coat in any fur, with any initials.

There were maxicoats and minicoats, many shown with pants. One highlight was a hand-picked mink in pastel shades for $5,000. Kaplan said he had an order for another one in a design by Max Ernst, the painter.

BUT THE newest items of all were designed for Kaplan by Frederica Poinsenet, 15, of Manhattan, whose mother is a friend of the furrier. "I had nothing to do this summer," she said, explaining why she went to work for Kaplan for several weeks.

"We didn't know what we wanted to do," she said, "but we didn't want to do the same thing."

The something different she wanted turned out to be fur vests, embroidered and bejeweled in the hippie style. Made of lamb, rabbit and other relatively inexpensive furs, the vests are available in an array of colors. Kaplan said he didn't know yet how much they would cost.

Frederica also designed a black broadtail dress with a cutout lace trim at the hem and the cuffs.

KAPLAN, WHO claims as customers everyone from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to comedienne Phyllis Diller, is noted for his fun furs, his original treatment of standard furs and his development of new furs.

This year's surprise was a simple coat of South American Zorinos for the woman who wants the look of Russian sable without the price tag. The Zorinos coat was modeled with a sable coat of similar design. The Zorinos cost $1,500; the sable, $12,500.

FUR DESIGNER Jacques Kaplan presented his annual collection Wednesday in New York. As usual his designs were classified as the unexpected. Left, socialite Cathy Macauley wears a calf minicoat with her initials stenciled into the fabric. Kaplan says he will do the coat in any fur with and initials. At right is a red and white fox parka and self scarf. (AP Wirephoto)

Divorcee Friend Causes Husband Some Embarrassing Moments

DEAR HELEN:

Is it possible for a woman to love her husband, yet all but throw him at another woman?

It appears to me that my wife arranges to be somewhere else whenever this divorcee friend of hers is around. The friend is a knock-out. She is not burdened with morals, and has let me know that she might be interested. I'm as human as the next man, but I'm resisting because: 1. I am not an adulterer at heart; and, 2. I can't figure out my wife.

I know she loves me. I am blessed with that rare female who thinks of her man before she thinks of herself. Could it be she figures I'm missing something that every man should experience; or is she putting temptation in my way to test my stamina?

Or, a thought just struck me, does she want a rest from being a wife? An excuse for separate beds? — DOUBTING TOM

DEAR TOM:

Why, for Pete's sake, don't you ask your wife? Two marriage rules you evidently haven't learned are: On emotional matters, don't every try to outguess a woman; and don't ask another woman to do your guessing for you. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

"Puzzled Bride to Be" wanted to know how she could avoid children at her wedding and reception. I'm thoroughly disgusted at the trend toward omitting children from family affairs. Even though it costs more to feed them, what's another $50 for dinners when you're already spending around a thousand for everything?

When our daughters are married, the invitations will include the whole family. And we're not wealthy.

Small children are more thrilled by a wedding than are many adults, and they often behave better. There's nothing sweeter than a bridal snapshot with a young relative. I'd be tempted to send my regrets if the bride indicated the wedding was a "no children" affair. — Mrs. J.S.L.

DEAR HELEN:

You printed letters from mothers of children who "had to get married." They shouldn't feel self-pity. After all, they now have sons-in-law and grandchildren.

But what of the parents whose daughters refuse to get married? Our child was raised properly in a family that prayed and played together. Her young man is a wonderful fellow, one we would be glad to welcome as a son. But she won't even see or call him — he doesn't know she is expecting. She simply broke up with him and gave no explanation.

We will never see our first grandchild. I go to bed each night crying, though I try to put on a brave front when we visit her at the "home." There seems to be no medication for a broken heart. My greatest consolation is found in prayer. Sometimes I hate to leave the church for I feel secure there. I stay for hours talking to the Lord.

I would take the baby myself, but I am so tired and I long for the freedom I shall have this year. You see, the youngest of our six children started school in September. I have looked forward for 20 years to the time I could get out and perhaps join charitable organizations or just visit with friends.

Helen, what is the answer for mothers like me? The day of this child's birth will be a black day every year of my life. — Mrs. L.D.C.

DEAR MRS. C.:

Seems to me you're hiding behind self-pity and prayer when you should try direct action. Tell the young man he is about to become a father. He may solve your problems with some direct action of his own . . . That is, if he can break through the guilt which may now be stifling your daughter. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY
They called William T. Coleman "Mr. San Rafael." And with good reason, for no man contributed more to the community's early progress. But his reputation extended well beyond the boundaries of Marin. In San Francisco he was a leading figure in the powerful Committee of Vigilance. His clipper ships and business enterprises were known around the globe. And he was once even considered for President of the United States. Historian Florence Donnelly tells his story tomorrow.
Just how much latent talent is there in Marin? A great deal, believes Katharane Burbeck Johnson, and she can site her own case as an example. She was 50 before she did her first painting. And 60 before she took up oils in earnest. Yet her realistic landscapes and florals have won widespread public acceptance as well as furnishing her with much personal satisfaction. Marin Magazine editor Don Keown has written about her for tomorrow's issue.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The Council's findings are from California and National P-TA magazines and the "film report" of the Film Estimate board of national organizations. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael or Mill Valley libraries.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Bandolero" — Well made, well cast, violent western has background of fine desert scenery.

"Elvira Madigan" — Tragic love story in a Swedish film of rare beauty.

"Games" — Weird mystery story with all the tenseness of horror film . . . well acted but too brutal for very young people.

"Interlude" — Poignant interlude is relieved when former partners of a tender love affair meet again. England at its Springtime best, tastefully photographed.

"Madigan" — Set in New York City, this is a gripping suspense story about two of the best police detectives on the force. Hhey are assigned by the commissioner to track down and capture a psychopathic killer. Action is so tense that it is at times too real.

"More Than a Miracle" — The film is publicized as a fairy tale for adults because it satirizes the clerics and monarchs of the period. It is a Cinderella story in which a beautiful peasant girl and a charming prince overcome all obstacles which keep them apart. Filmed in Italy, the landscapes and castles are beautiful.

"Odd Couple" — Beautifully acted and directed humorous character study of two divorced men sharing an apartment.

BORDERLINE
(some say adults only)

"The Producers" — Farce about a crooked producer who schemes to make millions by producing a flop. Artless, dull film which emphasizes lewd characters and perversion.

ADULTS ONLY

"Casino Royale" — This garish, tasteless spoof of James Bond films, instead of hilarious entertainment is a long drawn-out bore. Story revolves around the efforts to bring the original James Bond out of retirement to prevent SMERSCH from killing off all the 007 secret agents, This multi-million dollar production may possibly bring the James Bond series to an end.

"Deadfall" — Michael Caine in contrived, implausible tale about jewel thievery and sexual aberrations. (Christian Science Monitor)

"The Detective" — Frank Sinatra performs thoughtfully as hard-bitten cop of integrity fighting the sytem and himself in New York. Shock effects usually realistic, though harrowing story retains some cliches.

"Hour of the Wolf" — On a small island off the coast of Sweden a mad artist and his young wife live in terror of the night when ghosts and demons appear. It is a terrifying film for adults to watch. Theaters should not admit children.

"How to Save a Marriage . . . and Ruin Your Life" — Slick glossy film starring Dean Martin as a bachelor who tries to help a friend whose marriage is breaking up. Comic moments, some of them suggestive, but little more than tired entertainment.

"Lady L" — Adaptation of Romain Gary's sophisticated novel, the life story of a lady with a past. Reconstruction of early years of century in French, Swiss and English settings is rich and colorful.

"A Minute to Pray, A Second to Die" — (Italian) Artificial and overblown melodrama patterned on the American western. Emphasis on killing puts plot about slowly reformed gunslinger into the shadows.

"Thomas Crown Affair" — Plotting and execution of big bank robberies is ingenious. Criminal and investigator become involved in torrid love affair. Crime pays well in this case. Very modern treatment: all phases of immorality are taken for granted.

Brecht Play Announced As Opener

College of Marin drama students in the cast are: Mark Rasmussen of Lagunitas, Bruce Webster of Fairfax, Corrine Atkinson and Janie Cummings, both of San Rafael, Don Carroll of Larkspur,

Robert Deckelman and Steven Loegering, both of Novato, Merike Brown, Kent Kay, Dan Scharett and Rufus Gartrelis, all of San Francisco,

Ann Early, Petra Chambers, Greg McCarthy, Barry Nicol and Bob Nicol, all of San Anselmo, Alan Shearer and John Fay, both of Mill Valley, Tom Littlefield, Reg Woods and John Edminster, all of Sausalito, Joe Carrillo of Berkeley, Bill Grace of Ross and Bill McKey and Steve Weber, both of Kentfield.

The play will run for six performances, Oct. 18, 19 and 23 through 26 at 8:30 p.m. in the college theater.

Transplant Is Hailed A Success

MONTREAL (UPI) — The heart of a 19-year-old motorcycle victim was functioning beautifully today in the body of the 51-year-old recipient in Canada's fourth heart transplant operation.

The operation, performed late yesterday, was termed a "tremendous success" by Dr. Paul David, director of the Montreal Institute of Cardiology where all four Canadian heart transplants have been performed.

The heart was that of Jacques Boudreau, a Cape de la Madeleine, Que., commercial school student. The recipient was Quebec City engineer Edouard Desrivieres, father of three daughters, aged 12, 18 and 20.

Fair Opens On Saturday

A variety of activities for children and adults are planned for the annual Mountain Fair to be held from 9 a.m. to sundown Saturday and Sunday, not Friday and Saturday as reported Monday in the Independent-Journal.

There will be pony rides and games for children and a flea market, handicraft booths and a country kitchen for adults. A circus theme will be used.

The fair will be held at the association's clubhouse at the end of Ridge Avenue, Muir Woods Park.

Extinct In Iowa

DES MOINES (UPI)—The timber wolf now is extinct in Iowa, the State Conservation Commission says. The "wolf" that is occasionally spotted usually turns out to be a coyote.

The date for the Woodacre Improvement Club's amateur talent show has been changed from Nov. 30 to Nov. 23. The show will be at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse at 1 Garden Way.

'JACK BOOT' CHARGES

Gun Registration Forum Brings Southern Marin Stockpile Talk

By KARL BARRON

A forum on gun registration at College of Marin last night turned into sometimes-unruly heckling match, during which charges were made that "jack boots are being heard" in the U.S. stockpiles of machine guns and bazookas exists in Southern Marin and guns are needed as protection against "the kooks in Southern Marin."

The debate, sponsored by Toastmasters Clubs and the college, featured county Supervisor Peter H. Behr speaking in favor of gun registration, and Jerome F. Downs, attorney who lives in Mill Valley, opposing the legislation. Lothar Salin of San Rafael Toastmasters was moderator.

The ordinance passed by the supervisors to require registration of guns with a $1 fee will appear as a referendum measure on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Downs, a member of the National Rifle Association and numerous gun clubs, made the statement that "jack boots are being heard in this country." He went on, "In Orange County, you can't take an unpopular stand without being threatened." He said he is in favor of more stringent gun controls, but held the proposed ordinance contributes no more control than that already provided by state registration procedures.

Downs said he is completely against "Minuteman type" groups, and that he stopped hunting years ago because "I couldn't go on killing the poor animals." His use of guns is now confined to competition shooting.

During statements and questions from the floor, an unidentified man made the reference to protection being needed from the "kooks in Southern Marin." This brought a response from a woman, who said: "Governor Reagan said guns may get into the wrong hands. Which are the right hands? I'm afraid of the kooks in Southern California!"

The charge that machine guns and bazookas were stockpiled in Southern Marin came from a woman who also failed to identify herself. When asked her source by Behr, she said, "Two police chiefs told me about them."

Behr indignantly denied the charge, and Downs opened his summary by saying, "You hurt our cause desperately in making irresponsible statements such as this." The woman and her companions arose and left the hall.

Behr quoted statistics to that states and countries with strict gun control laws have fewer homicides, and cited among those favoring stricter gun control laws J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI; California Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch; the District Attorneys Association of California; the American Bar Association; the International Chiefs of Police, and the Stanford Research Institute.

Downs contradicted many of the statistics, dismissed Hoover as "a policeman," and noted that Behr had slipped over into "gun control" while the subject being debated was gun registration.

Downs began his debate dramatically by handing Behr a rifle, asking him to hold it while he explained that from the time it was manufactured in England until he bought it, it was continually registered.

The debate had its humorous moments.

William Cannon arose to declare: "Cain murdered Abel with the jawbone of an ass. The Bible doesn't say the good Lord requires registration of the jawbone of an ass."

"If the percentage of murders committed with a gun in this country in 1967," Behr replied, "had been committed with the jawbone of an ass, people would be wondering why there were so many dead asses lying around."

"I think it was Samson not Cain who used the jawbone of an ass," put in Salin.

Behr said that if Los Angeles had a registration law such as proposed in Marin, "Sirhan Sirhan would have been caught as an alien and the gun would have been taken away from him."

At one point a woman asked Cannon, who was holding a crossbow in the front row, to put it away. She was joined by several others, and Salin asked him to put it back in its case. It had been brought to show that lethal weapons other than guns were easily purchased.

A man who identified himself as a gun dealer, against registration, said he had removed his collection of about 100 guns from Marin because "the police departments here can't cope with burglaries."

John Levinson declared from the audience, "Czechoslovakia has strict gun controls—and guess who's laughing about that?"

Behr, reporting that 26,000 guns are being bought in California every month, said "People are buying guns to protect themselves from people who are buying guns."

Salin had difficulty in keeping the floor debate from becoming one-sided, since the majority of speakers were against the registration proposal. A table set up at the entrance to Olney Hall offered three publications of the National Rifle Association; two pamphlets put out by the National Shooting Sports Foundation; one mimeographed sheet from the Marin Citizens Committee Against Gun Registration, and one unidentified printed page titled, "How To Raise a Juvenile Delinquent," with no reference to guns.

Hub Chamber Views Parking

The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce board yesterday discussed the possibility of improving the parking situation on city-owned property behind Kaufman's department store, 540 San Anselmo Avenue.

William Franchini, president, said the lot is partially paved and free parking is permitted. He said the chamber may suggest that the city council undertake further paving and charge for parking. The lot, he said, could hold about 75 cars.

The board will meet again at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at the San Francisco Theological Seminary on Kensington Court.

Proposition No. 9 —'Cure That Kills'

Proposition 9 — the Watson "tax relief" Amendment on the Nov. 5 ballot — may be "a cure that kills the patient."

That evaluation of the proposal, which would ultimately limit property taxes to 1 per cent of market value and deny property tax revenues to support education and welfare, was given last night to the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilman by Bert W. Broemmel, Marin County assessor, speaking at Sabella's restaurant in Alto.

Broemmel, who is also president of the County Assessors Association of California, before analyzing effects of the Watson Amendment outlined these other provisions:

1. Any one taxing district would be limited to a bonding capacity of 5 per cent of assessed valuation, including bonds issued either before or after the effective date, next July. Present bonding capacities range from 5 per cent for libraries and school districts to 20 per cent for public utility districts. Irrigation and water districts have no limitation in bonding capacity.

2. All taxing districts together affecting any one piece of property could have a bonded indebtedness total of only 20 per cent, including indebtedness already outstanding.

Broemmel said he believed that the total outstanding bonded debt statewide is already "well in excess of the proposed limit."

He noted that the amendment provisions apply not only to districts that presently levy taxes but to those that have taxing power, whether used or not. He cited Marin Municipal Water District and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District as examples, and said they would face serious problems if they were to seek financing through bond sales.

Property taxes, the assessor said, presently yield $4.5 billion, of which $2.5 billion go to schools and welfare programs.

In seeking to lift this $2.5 billion levy on property, Broemmel said, the amendment fails to say what source of revenue shall replace the property tax.

More seriously, he noted, the amendment "does not limit the expenditures of local government . . . does not limit state government expenditures . . . does not limit the extent to which substitute sources of revenue may be exploited."

Broemmel foresaw the possibility of "a multitude of nuisance type taxes, including . . . payroll taxes, gross receipts taxes, service charges, etc."

Broemmel described the alternative property tax relief measure, Proposition 1-A, proposed by the Legislature and approved by Gov. Ronald Reagan as clear-cut and providing "orderly change rather than radical reform."

The basic provision of this proposition, designed to return $261 million to property owners, calls for direct payment of $70 to each of them this year by the state.

A $750 property tax exemption, which would provide a reduction equivalent to about $70, would begin in fiscal 1969-70, with the Legislature empowered to increase this in future years, provided equivalent replacement revenues were provided.

Household furnishings and personal effects of a householder would receive complete exemption in the future as compared to the present $100 exemption.

Broemmel reported that about $43 million would go to businessmen in inventory exemption with the remaining $218 million going to homeowners and tenants.

The Legislature has so worded Proposition 1-A that either it or the Proposition 9 — whichever receives the more votes — will be the effective measure. A simple majority is required to make the winner effective.

Said Broemmel: "You as voters have a choice to make — either Proposition 9 or 1-A. The Legislature has seen to it that you can't have both."

Proposition 9 Opposed In Larkspur

The Larkspur School District board last night went on record opposing Proposition 9 (the Watson Amendment) on the Nov. 5 ballot as a measure that would lead to loss of local control by schools.

The board also declared the proposition, which would limit property tax levies to 1 per cent of market value, provides no alternative for lost financing.

Bronte Reynolds, president of the Larkspur Teachers Association, told the board the initiative was unsatisfactory because it implies a reduction in taxes but obviously funds must then come from other taxation.

The Larkspur School District board also:

GUIDES — Reviewed and adopted teacher guides and publications for the current year.

FUNDS — Was informed that National Defense Education Act funds are available to pay for special outside instructors in science to lecture at periodic in-service meetings of all district teachers.

CURRICULUM — Heard reports from all principals on curriculums of their schools. Items included language laboratories, remedial after-school programs, and use of teacher aides.

TRUCK — Authorized advertising for bids for a new pickup truck for the maintenance department.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of John Smith, a district gardener.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Peggy King as district psychologist for $10,000 annually.

Cities' Leaders Drop Uniform Salary Plan

A proposal to establish county-wide pay scales for police and firemen, to relieve the upward pressure by competition among cities, was opposed last night by seven out of 10 Marin municipalities represented at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

The 7-3 vote, with Belvedere absent, came at the first fall meeting of the council at Sabella's in Alto.

By a narrower 5-4 vote, with Fairfax abstaining, the mayors and councilmen rejected a proposal to request the county board of supervisors to change "as soon as practically possible" the recently adopted policy of granting three weeks vacation to county employees after one year on the job.

San Anselmo Mayor Duane C. Ragan introduced the discussion of uniform wage scales. He asked that city managers and administrators, or appropriate city councilmen be assigned to get together and prepare such a program for study and action.

Those in favor were generally agreed in their arguments, claiming the police and firemen were able to boost wages by exploiting competition between cities.

Only Mill Valley and San Rafael supported the San Anselmo proposal, with San Rafael Councilman Harry A. Barbier asserting that "the dangers and responsibilities (of employees) are the same whether in Sausalito or San Rafael."

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones of Ross took sharp issue, declaring the jobs completely different from city to city, the differences largely a matter of population.

Barbier suggested that a wage scale could be devised which would group cities in categories according to population. This drew no response from others present.

Jones noted that Ross recently "lost a fine policeman to Mill Valley" which could pay him more. Favoring such competition among cities as giving employees a chance to advance, Jones said, "I see no reason why his wings should be clipped."

Mayor Alfred Malvino of Larkspur expressed fear that under a uniform pay scale, Marin's cities would "wind up like San Francisco, which has no control over salary scales."

It was Mayor Ragan also who proposed the county be asked to rescind its new vacation schedule. Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood of Tiburon asserted that the three-week policy was now built into county contracts with the social workers and probation worker unions, thus limiting the supervisors' powers to reverse the action.

The clincher appeared to be Sausalito Councilman Jan Paul Dyk's argument, "If it's okay for us (the cities) to set our own pay scale, it is not up to us to pass on their (supervisors') action."

Larkspur, Mill Valley, Ross and San Anselmo favored appealing to the supervisors.

Brixon Again Heads Marin Mayor-Councilmen Group

Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen last night re-elected Vice Mayor Neil Brixon of Larkspur to a third one-year term as council chairman.

The council also chose Fairfax Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson as its alternate member of the executive committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments. Larkspur Councilman Earl J. O'Grady remains the council's regular delegate.

Mrs. Wilson was elected 7-3 over San Anselmo Councilman James F. Reed in a secret ballot.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst of Corte Madera submitted a committee's proposal to form an executive board comprised of the mayors of member cities. The board could set agendas for regular meetings, appoint cities representatives to other official bodies, and recommend courses of action to the full membership.

The report was accepted for submission to member city councils for review.

Brixon raised the issue of council representatives voting on government agencies to which they were appointed, noting that it is often difficult for them to know the wishes of the mayors and councilmen.

Mrs. Wilson pointed out it was essentially a question of whether the appointees were representatives or delegates. The former, she said would be picked for their knowledgability and competence and left free to vote their views; the latter would have less freedom, being expected to vote as instructed.

Michael Wornum, of Mill Valley said, "I have found the most effective people are those who are free to vote . . . ineffective are the ones who must return to their appointing bodies."

The matter was left for future discussion.

The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen also:

GUN CONTROL — Put off scheduled discussion of proposed legislation on gun registration, because the question is on the Nov. 5 ballot.

BCDC PLAN — Postponed a report on the Bay Conservation and Development Commission plan for San Francisco Bay development controls, because of the lateness of the hour.

CREAMPUFF '65 BUICK ELECTRA $1995

Here's a really fine custom Electra 225 4-dr. sedan that we sold new to local couple in '65 and just took back in trade on another new Buick Electra.

This Green Mist Electra has had excellent care by the former owner and prescribed maintenance by our service department since new.

PRICE INCREASES? NO, SIR!!

You used car buyers have it made, especially if you buy at the People-Pleasing Place . . . Lou Concilio's Marin Dodge. Not many people pay attention to used cars during new model introduction time, and it's too bad, 'cause the bargains get bigger and bigger right at this time. So, pay attention, and save a bundle.

'64 T-Bird $1595
The Pride of Ford Motor Co. is in our Dodge corral and we'll let you have it for this ordinary car price. In Silver Metallic, with all the T-Bird goodies like power windows, power steering, automatic, radio and heater, it'll give you that good feeling you'd expect from our own Dodge Monaco. #9055

Directors Ask Growth Costs

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors last night asked engineer J. Warren Nute to provide estimates on cost of a study of the district's expected growth and future needs.

Mrs. Leila Sayers, district secretary, said directors want an estimate on how much Nute would charge before they launch the study.

Directors also heard a request by Rev. W. A. Conrad of Valley Baptist Church for annexation of about five acres of land on Los Ranchitos Road at North San Pedro Road, which the church is considering buying. He was told to apply to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Cancer Of Prostate Second Deadliest Tumor Among Males

VAN DELLEN

Cancer of the prostate is second only to malignancies of the lung as the most common cause of death from cancer in men. According to Dr. Victor F. Marshall, the disorder is rare before age 40, but careful, routine autopsies on males over 50 revealed that 15 per cent had a prostatic malignancy.

This is frightening, even though many of these lesions are microscopic in size and too small to be detected in the living individual. We know, also, that many of these tumors grow slowly or remain inactive for years.

THE PROSTATE is easily felt during a rectal examination. Normally, the gland is soft and the size of a walnut. Cancer is suspected whenever the physician feels a hard nodule or tumor within the tissue. A biopsy substantiates the diagnosis.

A blood test also is available because prostatic carcinomas produce acid phosphatase and an excess of this enzyme in the blood may mean trouble.

We also know that the chance for cure is greatest when the cancer is localized within the framework of the prostate. In a recent report from Johns Hopkins hospital, followup studies on 111 men with cancer confined to the gland, showed that 103 lived 15 years or longer following total removal of the prostate. These figures represent double the success rate achieved with hormonal therapy (estrogens).

MALE HORMONES stimulate growth of the cancerous prostate cells whereas female sex hormones (estrogens) depress, but do not destroy, the malignant cells. Taking pills is much easier than undergoing surgery.

Consequently, the use of estrogens is much more popular. In addition, many of the victims live a normal life expectancy.

CAREFUL STATISTICAL studies, however, have demonstrated that men given estrogens died sooner than those not receiving the hormones. They succumbed to heart attacks; not because of the malignancy. The pendulum may swing again to surgery.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

SWALLOWS TOOTHPASTE

Mrs. J. writes: My 5-year-old grandson swallows some of the toothpaste while brushing his teeth. Can this ruin his stomach?

REPLY

Every day millions of children do the same thing and to the best of our knowledge, no one has suffered. The one in a million allergic to the dentifrice has to switch to another brand. Don't fuss as long as the child has no complaints.

TORN LIGAMENT

A reader writes: Is surgery the only remedy for a torn ligament in a knee? The victim is a 56-year-old man.

REPLY

Yes, provided he has given nature a chance by babying the joint and has worn a support for several weeks.

ALLERGIC TO FLEAS

A reader writes: Could a person be allergic to fleas and notice them more than other people in the house?

REPLY

Not to fleas, but to their bites. The same is true of mosquitoes, bees, and many other insects. Dust also contains microscopic residuals of dead insects, and allergists find that many people are sensitive to these particles.

A STANDING PHOBIA

A reader writes: What is stasiphobia? Please let me know if this disorder can be cured.

REPLY

This is a morbid fear of standing. It is difficult to understand except for those ditched at the altar. Whether or not complete cure is possible is doubtful. The victim needs psychiatric care.

Hospital Annex Project Lags In Petaluma

Construction is two months behind schedule on the new coronary care and intensive care units at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma, the board of directors learned yesterday at its monthly meeting.

Originally planned to open Nov. 10, Mrs. Loree Smith, administrator, said it is now hoped it will open soon after the first of the year. Included will be four private rooms for cardiac patients and four for intensive care.

Board members voted to present a plaque of appreciation to Mrs. Rose Strauss of San Francisco, in whose honor the new units will be named. A native of Petaluma, Mrs. Strauss donated $99,000 in stocks for the new construction. Mrs. Smith will present the plaque tonight at Mrs. Strauss' 100th birthday party at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco.

Board members Clyde Nelson Jr., Albert Brehens Sr. and Mrs. Smith were selected to attend the Association of District Hospitals convention in Santa Barbara Oct. 19-20.

Duties Parceled Out In Municipal Court

The Marin Municipal Court criminal calendar, called by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., will be held at 2 p.m. daily for the rest of this year, the judge announced. The judge will call the weekly probation and sentencing calendar at 10 a.m. on Fridays.

Judge Hadden W. Roth will hear the traffic calendar and Judge Peter Allen Smith will hear the law and motion calendar, according to Edna L. Slavich, clerk of the Municipal Court.

Humphrey Hits GOP On Economics

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, pressing harder than ever for televised debates with Richard M. Nixon, today promised continued prosperity if he is elected president. He accused the Republicans of "economic mismanagement."

The Democratic vice president, in a campaign speech prepared for the Portland City Club, said that "when Americans can vote on prosperity, I am confident they will give us a clear call for more of it.

In San Francisco yesterday, Humphrey dispatched a telegram to Nixon after reading published reports that the Republican presidential nominee had expressed a willingness to debate the vice president—a key aim of Humphrey's.

There was no indication, however, that early debates were likely.

Humphrey seemed satisfied with the results of his second campaign swing into California —with visits to Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Francisco.

"I think Mr. Nixon is in trouble," he said. "I'm not. My market trend is up."

Humphrey drew two prominent Vietnam doves into his camp yesterday.

Arthur J. Goldberg, former Supreme Court justice and U.N. ambassador, signed on as co-chairman of Humphrey's campaign committee. Goldberg's successor at the United Nations, George W. Ball, quit the post to become, in Humphrey's words, "my chief foreign policy adviser."

NIXON

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is trying to convince Southern voters they should "not go off on a third party kick" in support of a man he said can't be elected president, George C. Wallace.

In Louisville, Ky., last night, Nixon broke his self-imposed rule against even mentioning Wallace's name and was expected to step up his drive against the threat that the presidential choice will be thrown into the House. If the voters want a change, Nixon said in a statement, then he is a candidate who will give it to him.

He said that from the standpoint of being elected, the former Alabama governor's candidacy is "not serious at all."

"He has no chance at all," Nixon said. "The question is whether or not he will get enough votes in the electoral college to deny a majority to me or to Mr. Humphrey."

WALLACE

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace, who is resting at his Montgomery home from his campaign schedule, spent a busy day yesterday conferring with aides.

The former Alabama governor received word that campaign appearances in two of the nation's largest metropolitan areas were meeting opposition from local officials.

In Cicero, Ill., Wallace aides canceled plans for a motorcade through the western suburb of Chicago after they received a permit for him to speak at Cicero street corner.

Preceding his speech in Cicero, Wallace is scheduled to parade through Chicago's Loop.

A rally tentatively planned for Shea Stadium in New York City on Oct. 9 fell through when Parks Commissioner August Heckscher denied a request to use the stadium.

Also yesterday a spokesman for Wallace denied any romantic link between the candidate and Ja-Neen Welch, a curvaceous blonde who has appeared with his campaign party and says she is willing to marry him. He said she has been dismissed from Wallace's tours.

McCARTHY

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says he will not make any comment on the presidential election until Oct. 8 when he is scheduled to speak at a rally here for Paul O'Dwyer, Democratic Senate candidate, who has refused to endorse the party's presidential team.

The Minnesota Democrat returned yesterday from a vacation on the French Riviera.

Asked at Kennedy Airport for his impression of the campaign thus far, McCarthy replied, "It seems a little mixed up. The candidates seem to be busy revising their remarks."

Earlier, the Columbia Boradcasting System said a McCarthy representative had asked to buy a half hour of prime television time in October for "an important statement" by the senator.

McCarthy has not stated whether he will support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who defeated him for the Democratic presidential nomination.

O'Dwyer, an antiwar Democrat, has refused to endorse Humphrey.

AGNEW

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Republican vice presidential nominee Spiro T. Agnew is attending to Maryland affairs and making preparations for a four-day campaign tour through the Midwest.

The governor also was to appear at a noon luncheon today at the National Press Club in Washington.

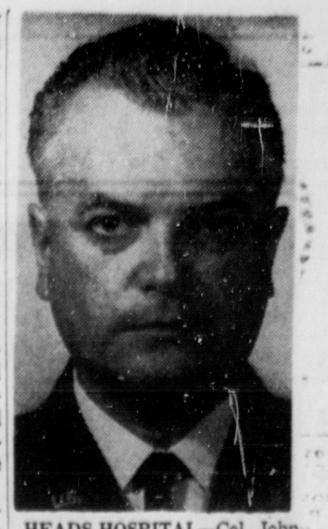
MUSKIE

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Edmud S. Muskie pleaded yesterday for restraint in making harsh judgments about youthful supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who interrupted his talks by shouting slogans and walking out.

Muskie's appeals came after more than 100 students walked out during a talk at Oakland University. It was the second straight day in which antiwar protestors interrupted his speeches.



HEADS HOSPITAL—Col. John R. Archdeacon, an orthopedic and aviation medicine specialist, has been named commander of the 78th Air Force Hospital at Hamilton Air Force Base, succeeding Col. William R. Thant's Plea For Summit Gets Backing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Support grew among lesser members of the United Nations today for a Big Four summit meeting proposed by Secretary-General U Thant in an effort to reduce East-West tensions and lessen the threat of nuclear war.

But there was no immediate reaction from the Big Four—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—to Thant's suggestion that their foreign ministers meet during the current U.N. General Assembly to pave the way for the top-level talks.

Thant in his annual report to the assembly last night accused both the United States and the Soviet Union of resorting to strong-arm methods when they felt their security threatened.

Many of the smaller U.N. member countries agreed with these words by Thant:

"In reality, the two super powers holds the master key to peace in the world. Little wars, or wars by little states, can be contained so long as the Super powers do not pose a threat of the big, the nuclear, the ultimate war.

"In the final analysis, there can be no solid foundation for peace in the world so long as the super powers insist on taking unilateral military action whenever they claim to see a threat to their security."

Thant said the presence of U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and French Foreign Minister Michel Debre at the assembly provided a chance for them to discuss outstanding issues. All are expected within 10 days.

The secretary-general offered to draw up a provisional agenda for the ministers and added:

"Hopefully, a meeting of the foreign ministers could lead to a meeting of the heads of state and governments of the four major powers. I feel that some such initiative is needed at the present time to counteract the serious setback to the detente in East-West relations that has resulted from recent events.

Thant strongly criticized the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia and the U.S .intervention in the Dominican Republic.

"It is certainly a frightening commentary on the ominous state of world affairs," he said, "that one super state or the other can become exercised to the point of resorting to military action because of the liberalization of a regime in a small country like Czechoslovakia, or because of an internal upheaval in another state, such as the Dominican Republic."

He repeated his belief that a halt to the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would lead to meaningful peace talks, and that the source of the Vietnam conflict is nationalism and not the collision of democracy and communism.

He said while there is widespread disappointment at the lack of progress in the Paris peace talks, it is encouraging that they were continuing.

Turning to Czechoslovakia, he appealed to both the North Atlantic and Warsaw Pact powers to refrain from a military build-up that would result in both sides assuming an offensive rather than a defensive posture.

He pleaded that the rival military blocs instead strengthen the peace-building and peace-keeping capability of the United Nations.

"The world badly needs an end to the outmoded but dangerous tactics of trying to cope with the problems of the sixties by the strong-arm methods common to the thirties," he said.

Picasso

A painted head of Picasso's design.

Reaching up is Arm, a 1959 bronze, to perhaps tickle the nose of an art student.

Two large-size head sculptures, created in 1931-32.

To create a style in art or music is, in any day or age, a difficult problem in creativity. Pablo Picasso has been an innovator of styles and methods throughout his life. He is a legend in the art world who is still at work.

Born in 1881 in Malaga, Spain, he mastered the realistic technique by age 14 and, at 16, was running his own studio in Barcelona, where he had dropped out of the School of Fine Art.

His work ranged through "periods", when one overall theme or color highlighted his efforts. His "blue" period was when he was impoverished and just settling in Paris. His "rose" period was when he began to find success and associated with talented people in other fields, such as Gertrude Stein, the writer. His "African" period, by 1907, was when he worked with primitive and archaic art of the African tribes.

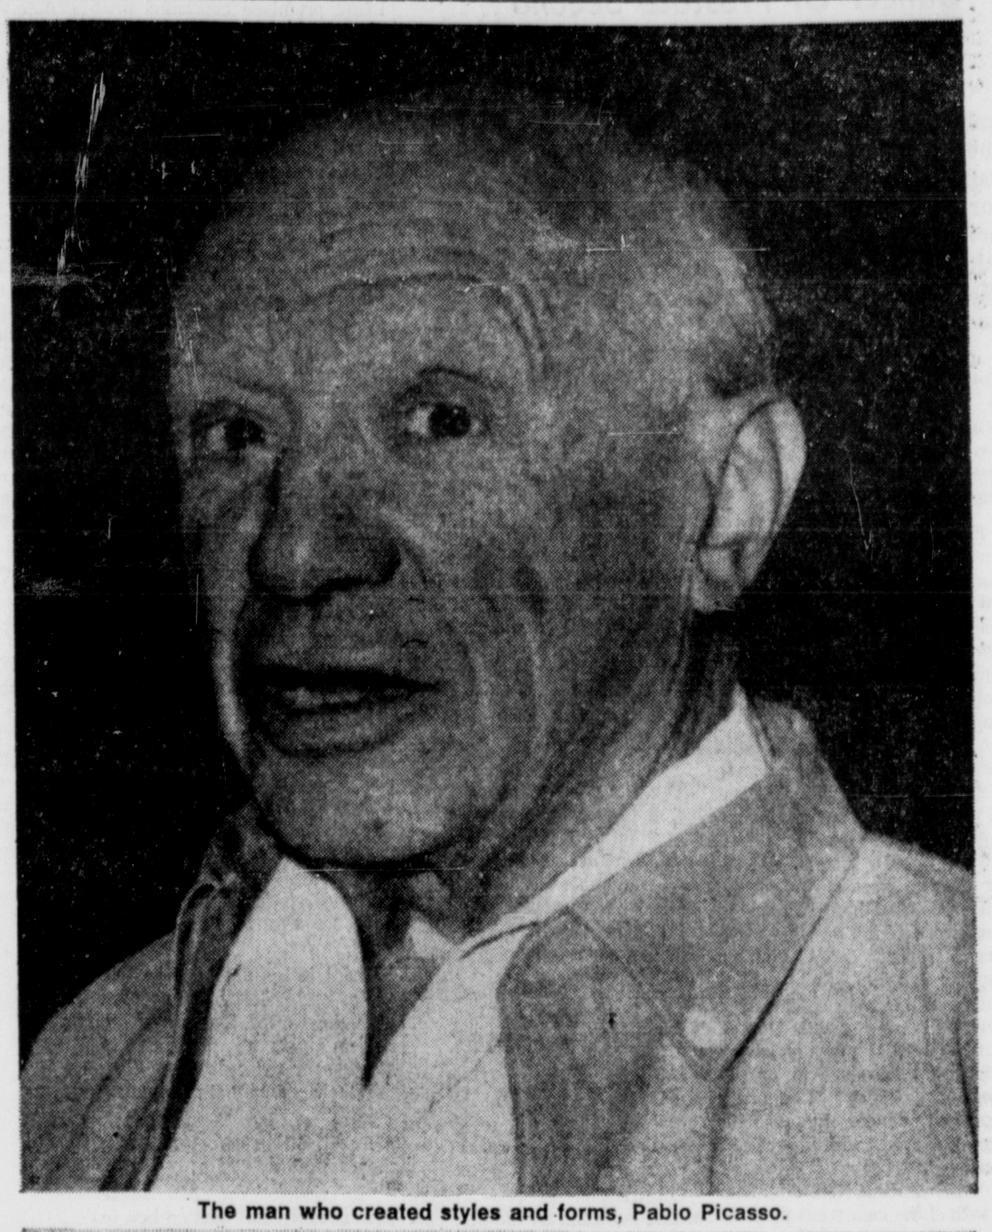
In 1908, he and Georges Braque produced works which came to be known as Cubism, based on simultaneous viewing of one object from many points of view. It was a new expression and, even as painters around the world emulated it, Picasso entered his "classic" period, marked by figures of monumental proportions.

Just prior to World War II, he touched surrealism, that art which depicts the happenings of the unconscious mind, but he moved away from such a style. During the War, despite Nazi condemnation, he continued to produce his sometimes horrifying distortions of his subjects, but never in a surrealistic sense.

Afterward, he entered into the "found objects" period, making art from whatever came to hand. This led to the study of folded sheet metal creations.

Even as he worked on one style he created works in another, producing in one "period" of effort more material than some artists create in a lifetime.

A study for Man with Sheep, an early 1940 pen and ink drawing.



The man who created styles and forms, Pablo Picasso.

Sheet-metal abstraction gazes back at the viewer.

'Peyton Place' Star Seeking To Return Home

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Dorothy Malone, who came to Hollywood from Dallas, Tex., 24 years ago, has announced plans to retire and return to her childhood home.

The former star of television's "Peyton Place" and Academy Award winner cited poor health, financial problems and smog as reasons for the move.

The 43-year-old blonde actress disclosed her plans to newsmen in superior court yesterday as she appeared as a witness in her attempt to modify two existing court orders.

One is that she cannot take her two daughters, Mimi, 8, and Diane, 9, out of southern California without written permission from her former husband, French-born actor Jacques Bergerac. The other is that he must pay her $300 monthly in child support.

Miss Malone wants to move to Dallas with the children and have the total child support increased to $600. The trial continues today with Miss Malone's business manager, Tom Budde, appearing as a witness.

Pleads Innocent

Nicholas Robin Gundry Fox, 24, of Sonoma, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana Aug. 5. Preliminary hearing was set for 9:30 a.m. Oct. 10.

Competitors Sue Lucky Stores

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fourteen grocery chains with stores in the Sacramento area have filed a $15-million triple damage antitrust suit against Lucky Stores Inc.

The suit filed yesterday in U.S. District Court contends that Lucky uses its "dominant position" to acquire monopolistic buying and selling power, and is thus able to control food prices.

It also asserts that Lucky retailed food at less than wholesale costs, subsidizing Sacramento area outlets with profits from other stores in California.

Lucky operates 169 supermarkets and a number of discount stores in California, Arizona and Washington.

Drunken Driving

Claude Beaver, 38, of 879 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was sentenced to 30 days in Marin County Jail and placed on two years' probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving Sept. 17 on Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Big Weekend Of Prep Football Begins Tonight

By GARY TISCHLER

All is not well for Marin County Athletic League football teams, despite a highly successful rout of non-league competition last week, resulting in a 6-0 record by league squads.

For one thing, the competition is getting steep, as of tonight.

For another, quite a few teams are suffering from a bad case of key injuries.

Tonight is a big night in many ways for three of the top MCAL entries. For the remainder, tomorrow should be a mopup operation.

Tonight Terra Linda, thin but solid, meets a revenge-minded South San Francisco squad at San Rafael High School, while injury riddled Redwood and Drake go out of the county to take on Vallejo and Riordan, respectively. All three games are at 8 p.m.

Tomorrow finds Novato hosting Petaluma, a 34-7 victim of Drake last week, at 2 p.m. Tamalpais meets Skyline in Mill Valley at 2 p.m. and San Rafael hosts Montgomery, which lost to Novato 33-6 last week, at 2 p.m.

Terra Linda, with a 33-0 opening win over Santa Rosa, appears to be stronger than expected and could upset the offense-minded South City bunch, who still remember the 21-14 setback suffered last year.

"They're just as good as they were last year," Trojan coach Don Lucas said. "They're big all over. They have a 255-pound tackle, a 205-pound fullback. But they don't seem to stress defense too much."

That could work out to the Trojans' advantage. They're a more explosive team this year with depth in the backfield and a natural passer in sophomore Tom Jackson.

South San Francisco whipped San Mateo, 34-19, in its opener.

The Trojans will be without linebacker John Wilson, who intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble last week. He'll be out with torn ankle ligaments. His backup man is also doubtful with an arm injury.

Redwood will be trying to bounce back from a so-so 18-6 win over Palo Alto, the same team that took a 56-14 pounding at the hands of Riordan a week earlier.

"I think Jim (Peters) should do better. It was the first game, so I think we'll have some things working better," Giants' coach Bob Troppmann said. "It will be a tough game, no doubt about it. But the last time we played Riordan was in 1962 and we won, 12-7."

Hopefully, something on that order will happen again. But the Giants are handicapped with Pete Richter, their best runner, still only at half speed, although he has the go ahead to play after missing the Palo Alto fray with cracked ribs. Out this time is Gary Kasprzak, the 230-pound tackle who also filled in at fullback last week. His place will be taken by Red Minutli at fullback while Pat Curley will be at tackle.

"We'll have to shore up our passing game of course," Troppmann said. "If we get that working, we have a good chance."

Drake, which gave Vallejo, now rated No. 2 in Northern California, a whale of a battle last year, should make it a close, see-saw game. But the Pirates, despite the 34-7 win last week, were hurt badly in that contest, losing tackle Ron Street for the season. And linebacker Rick Harnsbarger will also miss this game with an ankle injury, after playing a whale of a game last week.

That could be enough to spell disaster for Coach Bob Franceschini's bunch, with two key members of an outstanding defense missing.

Vallejo was up to its old tricks last week, staring a 20-0 deficit in the face going into the final period against Serra and winning, 21-20.

Novato coach Al Scott is not that impressed by Petaluma's lopsided loss, at least not enough to become complacent.

Women Had It Rough In Those Early Days

BROAD SUBJECT — The other day we discussed some Olympic Games problems created by female athletes.

Actually, it's nothing new. Dames have shaken up Olympic committees since the Games began.

Take 776 B.C., for example. One of the strictest rules of the Olympics barred women, not only as participants but also as spectators. But, wouldn't you know it, overcome by curiosity, some little cupcakes became the original "knot-hole" peepers or tree climbers. Those who were caught were usually put to death because the Games were regarded as religious ceremonies and the law of the ancient Greeks prohibited women at such functions.

This, I believe, was the origination of that old expression, "Curiosity killed the cats."

Then Came The Retaliation

Typically feminine, the women eventually retaliated with Games of their own. This, I believe, is when they invented the broad jump, but don't quote me on that.

Anyway, there is no authentic record as to when dollies finally were permitted to witness the Olympics, but, according to Frank Menke's Encyclopedia of Sports, it is presumed that this courtesy was extended not many generations after the Pherenice incident, one of the dramatic moments in ancient Olympiad history.

I can't wait to tell you about Pherenice, who was the mother of a pugilist named Peisidorous. Well, Pherenice was so anxious to second her son in a fight that she slipped into the stadium in male garb. When Peisidorous won, the mother's elation was so overwhelming that she forgot her masquerade, took him in her arms and caressed him.

I think poor ol' Peisidorous muttered something like: "Aw, gee whiz, cut it out, Ma, all the guys are laughing," but don't quote me.

It Caused Some Suspicion

This lovey-dovey scene in the middle of the ring aroused some suspicion, as you might imagine. One Olympic commissioner reportedly said: "Hmm, something fishy going on up there — all that kissin' and cuddlin' and horsin' around!" An investigation disclosed Pherenice's identity and she was put on trial. After she pleaded about love and motherhood, the judges ordered her freed, but ruled that in the future all trainers would have to appear naked at the Games.

So, you see, the problems confronting the Olympic Committee at Mexico City next month are really nothing new. Those old time cupcakes REALLY knew how to foul up the works.

PREP PATTER — Gary Sager, a former Terra Linda High footballer who transferred to the East Coast, made quite a debut at Woodside, N.J. High last week, scoring seven touchdowns in his team's opener. Terra Linda Coach Don Lucas is still mutterig something about "the big one that got away."

Tough Assignment For Drake

It appears that Drake's Pirates have the weekend's toughest assignment tonight at Vallejo. The host school hasn't lost a varsity football game since October of 1965 — a 24-game streak.

LITTLE SPORT — Athletic director-baseball coach Gary Hughes of Marin Catholic High School has recruited a future star whom he describes as ". . . a good curveball hitter. The kid already has turned down a bonus. He'll finish school."

He was referring to Michael Rock Hughes, a 9-pound, 13-ounce slugger born last night at Novato General. Mother, Kathleen, and child are doing well but dad's still a little shaky. The Hugheses have two daughters.

It Looks Like Clay Bout In Ohio Won't Come Off

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The chances for an exhibition boxing match here Nov. 11 featuring former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay dimmed yesterday.

Clovis J. Nogawick, secretary of the Columbus Boxing Commission, said he doubted the commission would permit the fight. Ohio has no state boxing commission.

Nogawick said the proposed fight would be considered at a meeting tonight.

Local promoters said earlier this week that they hoped to match Clay against a ranking heavyweight at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Mayor M.E. Sensenbrenner said yesterday, "I'm not interested in having any man fight in Columbus when that man is not interested in fighting for his country."

The former champion has been convicted of refusing to serve in the Army. He has appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Tentative plans also call for him to fight Zora Folley Oct. 25 on the Pima Indian Reservation in Arizona.

Final Series For A's

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics, hoping to finish in the first division for the first time since they called Philadelphia their home, open their final series tonight at 8 o'clock against the Minnesota Twins.

Oakland, a game behind the fifth-place Yankees and two ahead of the Twins, will send Jim Nash, 13-12, against Minnesota's Dean Chance, 16-15. The Athletics' first West Coast season will conclude with day games on Saturday and Sunday.

A victory tonight in the coliseum will assure Oakland of at League finish. They last completed a season that higha in the standings back in 1955, their first year in Kansas City, when they had a 63-91 record. They currently have an 80-79 mark.

Orioles Give Earl Weaver Another Try

BALTMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver, who replaced Hank Bauer as manager July 11, has been rehired for next season, the Baltimore Orioles announced today.

The Orioles said Weaver was paid at the rate of $25,000 a year as manager and will be raised to $32,500 for next season. Bauer was receiving $50,000 when he was fired in his fifth season as manager.

Weaver had been brought up to the Orioles as a coach for this season after managing Baltimore farm teams for 11 years.

The 38-year-old St. Louis native managed Santurce in the Puerto Rican League the past two winters, winning the pennant in the last.

When Weaver replaced Bauer, the Orioles were in second place 10½ games behind Detroit. They moved to within four games in late August.

They have clinched second place, 13 games behind pennant winner Detroit. However, the Orioles finished 21 games over .500 whereas they were only six over at 43-37 under Bauer. Weaver's record was 48-33.

During the winter, Weaver plans to visit the Oriole instructional camp at Clearwater, Fla., and Santurce where seven Orioles will be playing and Frank Robinson managing.

Giants Going All Out, Says Mr. Franks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Despite the fact that the Giants will finish in second place in the 1968 National League campaign, San Francisco Manager Herman Franks says his team will not relax.

"It wouldn't be honest to play it other than all out," Franks said as his team prepared to battle the third-place Cincinnati Reds in tonight's opener of the year's final series.

Gaylord Perry, 15-15, is slated to start for the Giants against George Culver, 11-16, but Franks says he may send rookie Rich Robertson to the mound instead.

"There is still a four-way fight for third-place money and we're conscious of it," Franks said. Chicago trails the Reds by a game with Pittsburgh and Atlanta tied for fifth, one game behind the Cubs.

"They can't complain about us pitching a rookie," Franks said. "because we started him against the Cardinals in San Francisco when we were still battling for second place." Robertson, who beat St. Louis, also has a victory in relief.

Tars To Host Napa Chiefs

History Of Rough Contests

By KIMO CAMPBELL

The College of Marin Tars have a problem tonight — what to do for an encore. This evening's 8 o'clock clash with Napa Junior College in Kentfield is unlikely to be decided on a last-second pass, as was last week's San Jose City College. Sooner or later, the Mariners are going to have to play a dull, ordinary game.

But while tonight's contest is not likely to produce heart murmurs among the coaches, it may well produce a few black eyes in the playing ranks. The Marin-Napa series is not known for soft football, or for strict Marquis of Queensbury sportsmanship.

WON LAST TWO

Marin has won the last two matches, 15-14 and 22-9, and held its own in the sporadic fighting that seems to accompany Napa football. To be fair, it is possible the Chiefs are not always so pugnacious — they just seem to begin snorting and pawing the ground at the sight of a Marin uniform. The '66 game was highlighted by a classic free-for-all, and last year's match was like 11 Muhammad Alis against 11 Archie Moores — plenty of talk, with a little scrapping tossed in.

The Tars are in good shape for the battle, with only defensive tackle regular Rich Woodall out of the lineup. Woodall's sprained ankle is still tender. Reserve guard Don Walker of Drake is back in playing condition, however. Tom Heacox, a '67 regular injured until recently, will start in Woodall's place.

I FORMATION

Napa runs an I formation, much like San Jose's, with a lot of running and rollout passes. The Chiefs lack superstars like last year's all-star men, Gordon Reese (end) and Dana Schulz (linebacker), but may have better balance. They dropped their opener to Gavilan 7-17, but Gavilan is said to be loaded this fall.

Quarterback Chris Burris (jersey No. 10), who will occasionally drop back and throw,

DOWN AND OUT — Buster Mathis (right) of Grand Rapids, Mich., connects with a solid right to send James J. Woody of New York to the canvas in sixth round of their heavyweight bout last night at New York's Madison Square Garden. Mathis won on a technical knockout in the sixth round. (UPI Telephoto)

Chuvalo Batters Ramos; Mathis TKO Over Woody

NEW YORK (AP) — George Chuvalo, a winner at last in a major fight, may take on Jerry Quarry, Floyd Patterson or Buster Mathis in Madison Square Garden Nov. 14.

The durable Canadian heavyweight champion, always an attraction because of his willingness to trade punches and a loser in his important fights, was back in the limelight today on his fifth-round technical knockout of Mexico's Manuel Ramos at the Garden last night.

FROM BEHIND

Mathis, in the co-featured bout, came from behind and stopped James J. Woody of New York in 2:59 of the sixth round after doing virtually nothing but dance around the ring for five rounds.

"I'm going to try and match Chuvalo with Jerry Quarry, Floyd Patterson or Buster Mathis for Nov. 14," said matchmaker Teddy Brenner. "Chuvalo was supposed to have fought Quarry instead of Ramos but Quarry couldn't make it because of a bad back. I hear he's back in the gym and I'll try and make it. If not it will be either Patterson or Mathis."

"I'd love to take on that Chuvalo," said Mathis, who watched the Canadian's triumph after his own fight.

223 POUNDS

Buster, down to 223 pounds to his opponent's 203½, made up lost ground with a fiery attack that dropped his smaller foe and brought the referee to Woody's rescue.

Chuvalo, a loser to Cassius Clay, Patterson, Ernie Terrell, Eduardo Corletti, Oscar Bonavena and Joe Frazier, looked like a world-beater against Ramos, another Frazier victim.

Both Chuvalo and Ramos had been stopped by Frazier, the five-state heavyweight champion from Philadelphia, in their Ramos, who had staggered Frazier before being bombed out in two rounds, was an 8-5 favorite over the perennial loser.

IMPORTANT

"I've been sick and tired of being labelled a loser," said the jubilant, 31-year-old Canadian. "This fight was very important to me—it was a crossroads."

Unlike Mathis, who had to come from behind, Chuvalo was ahead on a near shutoutout when he dropped the tall Mexican with a left hook to the jaw and a barrage of blows.

After Ramos staggered to his feet at three and was given the mandatory eight-count, Chuvalo, throwing punches with a speed he never had before, hammered his foe with both hands until Manuel indicated he had enough.

SAGGING

Referee Zach Clayton stopped it at 1:31 of the fifth after Ramos started sagging to the canvas.

A crowd of 9,128 paid about $60,000 for the non-televised show.

The fighters' records now are: Chuvalo, 52-14-2; Ramos, 21-8-2; Mathis, 28-1, and Woody 12-5.

Kennedy May Set Record As Manager For Finley

OAKLAND—Now that the A's are closing out their first coastal campaign on the fringe of the first division, one must consider the pluses and minuses, comings and goings.

On the chance you're wondering about the fate of their manager, good old whatshisname, don't get traumatic. Bob Kennedy, a quiet, stolid, gentle man, assured me the other night he had every reason to believe he'd serve the second year of his two-year pact with Charles O. Finley. I asked him only because no manager ever has worked two consecutive full seasons for Charlie. In his eight years as A's innkeeper, Finley's had eight managers.

"MY ASSOCIATION with Mr. Finley has been just great," said Kennedy, although insiders report that the owner has on occasion been critical of the manager — to the point of recommending a lineup change shortly before one game. Recommending? Ordering.

With six weeks left in the season Oakland had an honest to goodness shot at third place. Then the hitting tailed off miserably, and the bullpen suddenly collapsed. Kennedy had left-handed reliever problems when Tony Pierce and Paul Lindblad were hurt in June and July. The manager was forced to go with a bulky lad named Warren Bogle Jr., who was devasted by the first man he faced in five consecutive (and critical) appearances.

WHENEVER THE A's made a little mistake — and young clubs are wont to perform thusly — it cost them. Kennedy expected but still suffered with these boo-boos.

The stretch batting slump was unexpected, particularly that of hotshot Rick Monday, who led the league in hitting from time to time early in the summer.

The A's press book hailed Monday as the club's bellweather. After all, he led the K.C. Athletics in homers and RBIs in his rookie year of 1967. "He should be even more effective in the Oakland ballpark," promised the press book scribbler.

WELL, GOING into the final four games of the season, five A's had as many or more homers than Monday, who had all of a half dozen. And he trailed three mates in RBIs.

Since July 27, Monday's average dropped from .308 to just under .270. In that nearly two-month period, he went to bat 190 official times and struck out 72 of them. In 40 of those appearances he hit safely, for a .212 average.

RICH HAD come to Oakland billed as another Willie Mays. He wasn't even another Rick Monday in 1968. Whether it was the pressure of the publicity or the continuing slump, Monday dropped weight and kept dropping points.

Another ill-fated press book suggestion was the "intact double play combination of Campy Campaneris at short and John Donaldson at second." The latter was through by mid-season, although Campy had his best year ever, both in terms of average and stolen bases.

YOUNG REGGIE JACKSON was the biggest surprise, with his 28 home runs, team-leading 70 plus RBIs and almost record-setting number of strikeouts (161 by mid-week).

Jackson and Campy are the team's dash and excitement. If Finley wants to draw more than just over 800,000 to the Coliseum in 1969 he must build these personalities during the winter.

MEANWHILE, THE pitching (save for that portside hole in the bullpen) has been exemplary, althoug only Blue Moon Odom showed vast improvement over 1967 and was "interesting."

This meagre, rather colorless over-all talent should be enough to win the American League's Western Division title for Finley a year from now — and perhaps even stumble into the World Series.

The divisional arrangement, and a year of surveillance by the local folk, may help attendance. That's all Finley can gamble on, and so far that gamble is proving expensive. By this time, Seattle must look like paradise to Charlie.

Net Tourney Reaches Quarterfinals

BERKELEY (UPI) — Defending champion Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico takes on unseeded Whitney Reed of Alameda, and upstart Tom Gorman of Seattle faces eighth seeded Jim McManus of Berkeley today in quarterfinal play of the Pacific Coast International Tennisk tournament.

Pasarell easily advanced to the round of eight yesterday when he beat Richard Russell of Jamaica, 6-1, 6-4, while Gorman, seeded 13th, was ousting Davis Cupper Bob Lutz of Los Angeles, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

James Osborne of Honolulu, seeded seventh, plays second seeded Bob Smith, a Davis Cupper from Pasadena, and 11th seeded Roy Barth of San Diego, meets unseeded Tom Kiss of Alameda in the other quarterfinals matches.

Smith advanced by eliminating Eric Van Dillen of San Mateo, 7-5, 6-3, yesterday.

There was some confusion involving the pairings for women's quarterfinal play. In the top action there yesterday, Judy Tegart of Australia, the top seed, advanced by beating Elisa Pande of Palo Alto, 6-3, 6-3, while Kristy Pigeon of Danville, scored an upset of sorts by beating fourth seeded Maryna Godwin of South Africa, 6-2, 8-6. Miss Pigeon is seeded fifth.

anyway," Scott said. "But Petaluma always seems to be up for us. They treat this as some kind of rivalry."

Scott lost a couple of defensive halfbacks to injuries, which may hurt because Petaluma has a fair-to-middling passing attack.

Greg Billsboro and Phil Emswiler are both out but tackle Glen Holsclaw is back along with Mike Russell.

San Rafael is alive and healthy but Montgomery may still be sick in the head after running into Novato. That's a factor that may help the Bulldogs, who gave up a bunch of points in very un-San Rafael fashion to Marin Catholic last week.

But they can score with double threats in quarterbacks Lowell Widmer of the option play and Bruce Nave of the long bomb.

Tamalpais, which is beginning to look like a sleeper after an impressive 45-20 win over Salesian, will try to do it again with great quarterback Don Mackin chucking and the likes of Luther Brown, Dave Hector and Ron Small in the backfield. It's a steamroller offense, against a team that has already been plowed under by Hogan of Vallejo.

but more often roll out and run or pass, is a returning starter, capable but not on the level of Sierra's Ivan Lippi or San Jose's Dave Ellis. He will usually throw to end Paul Schmitz (86) or flanker Jim Heidmark (81).

STARTER

Marin's offense, which is still adding plays and slowly developing more threats, should be able to produce more this week than last — when it could not be faulted on clutch performance but sputtered much of the time. Kevin Wilson will start at quarterback, with Gary Dinkel and Keith Stirling at the halves and stumpy, rough-running Jim Finnegan at fullback. Tim Garvin, hampered by several nagging injuries, and Mike Fowler should also see action.

The defense will have Charley Collins and Rick Smith at ends, Chris Andersen at middle guard, Heacox and Bill McClelland at tackles, with Bill Hickerson and Art Langhoff at linebackers. Steve Berringer and Rod Powell will play safety, with Karl Stein and Jim Taylor at the corners.

TRY FOR 11

The Tars will be trying to extend their school-record winning string, which is now at 10 straight over two seasons.

Last Two 49er Holdouts Sign Their Contracts

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers, preparing today for Sunday's game against the Atlanta Falcons, have signed their last two holdouts—halfback Gary Lewis and flanker Kay McFarland.

Terms were not made public for Lewis, who is starting his fifth season in the National Football League, nor for McFarland, who is starting his seventh year.

Ernie Zwahlan, 49er defensive line coach, said he expected trouble from Falcon linemen, especially from linebacker Tommy Nobis.

Cal Picked By 4 Over Colorado

BERKELEY (AP) — California plays its home football opener tomorrow against Colorado and the Golden Bears are a four-point favorite to make it a successful debut.

Although the Buffaloes from the Big 8 Conference had a 9-2 season last year that included a Bluebonnet Bowl victory over Miami, they lost 13 starters and are not considered one of the stronger teams in their conference.

Still, Colorado was good enough to turn back Oregon 28-7 in its first game last week while Cal won its third straight game — counting victories last year over San Jose State and Stanford — by beating Michigan 21-7

The Bears unveiled a surprisingly strong and varied running attack against Michigan while the passing of quarterback Randy Humphries failed to live up to expectations.

Cal gained 240 yards on the ground as three runners—Gary Fowler, Bob Darby and John McGaffie—all got good yardage.

But since the Bears were protecting a lead almost from the first minutes of the game, Humphries played it cool and didn't throw much. Of the 13 passes, five were complete — for 40 yards.

"We've got to do better than that," said Cal Coach Ray Willsey, "and I'm sure we can. Now all we need to do is prove it against Colorado."

Colorado appears to be in good shape. Of last week's starters only offensive right end Kile Morgan, who suffered a hard bump on his head against Oregon, may not be at full strength, though he should play.

Bob Anderson, the Buffalo quarterback, is a threat both passing and running.

Game On Television

The California-Colorado football game will be televised on Channel 7 tomorrow beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Sponsors Boarding Rebel Golf Bandwagon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rebelling tour players of the new American Professional Golfers get a boost in their war with the Professional Golfers Association. The tournament director of five major stops in 1969, with combined purses of $700,000, announced his sponsors were boarding the APG bandwagon.

Paul C. Warren, the director, said sponsors "have indicated complete support and their desire and intention to contract with the newly formed APG at this time that they might be permitted to do so."

Warren, a tournament impressario from Cleveland, issued the statement here. He is vacationing at nearby La Costa.

The 1969 tournaments involved, Warren said, are the Atlanta and Philadelphia classics and the Florida Citrus, Jacksonville and Cleveland opens.

Coaches Pick Oaks, Pipers

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — American Basketball Association coaches predict the Oakland Oaks and Minnesota Pipers will win division championships in the 1968-69 season.

A preseason poll of the ABA's 11 coaches gave Minnesota seven first-place votes in the Eastern Division with the Indiana Pacers picked to finish second.

The Oaks received nine first place votes in the Western Division. The Denver Rockets were named for second place.

Top Swimmer

Pat Norton, winning two events and making two "A" times, topped Marin Swim Club members at last week's Novato "B" Swim Meet. Maura Campion took a pair of first in the girls 10-under division of the Palo Alto "A" meet last weekend.

Raiders Working Out In Houston's Searing Heat

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders are working out in searing heat this week for Sunday's contest with Houston in the cool Astrodome.

The Raiders daily ride a bus for 40 minutes to get to their practice area, which is so open in every direction that it is impossible for anybody without a helicopter to spy on their practice.

The Raiders will get one practice session in the dome. That's all visiting teams are allowed to get used to the astroturf.

Oakland should be healthy for Sunday's go. Offensive guard Wayne Hawkins and deep receiver Warren Wells were banged up against Miami, but should be ready to go.

Linebacker Gus Otto, who stretched a knee ligament against Buffalo and sat out the Miami game, will probably be used if needed.

Notre Dame Vs. Purdue Is College Grid Headliner

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Who's No. 1? Jack Mollenkopf says it's Notre Dame, Ara Parseghian says it's Purdue and both hope they're wrong.

The moment of truth will come tomorrow afternoon when Mollenkopf and Purdue, top team in The Associated Press college football poll, invade South Bend, Ind., for the annual war with Parseghian and second-ranked Notre Dame (No. 1 ranked by UPI).

"It's out of the frying pan and into the fire," Parseghian moaned after Notre Dame's convincing 45-21 rout of Oklahoma last Saturday. "They're a gifted ball club. I don't think we can over-defense them."

"I don't think there's another college football team in the nation that can match Notre Dame on offense," wailed Mollenkopf, 44-7 victor over Virginia in the opener.

In other games involving members of the Top Twenty, ninth-ranked Nebraska is at Minnesota, ranked 17th, and No. 13 Indiana travels to Kansas, No. 12.

Elsewhere, O.J. Simpson and third-ranked Southern California are at Northwestern, fourth-ranked Penn State entertains Kansas State, Florida, No. 5, is at Florida State and seventh-ranked Alabama hosts Southern Mississippi at Mobile. Sixth-ranked Texas is at Texas Tech and No. 8 UCLA faces Washington State at home in night contests, while Houston, rated 10th, is idle.

AT HOME

Ohio State, ranked 11th, opens its season at home against Southern Methodist, No. 15 Miami of Florida visits Georgia Tech, 16th-ranked Tennessee welcomes Memphis State, 18th-rated Oregon State is at Utah, Arizona State, No. 19 entertains Texas-El Paso and Wyoming, No. 20, is at the Air Force. Louisiana State, No. 14, visits Rice for a night game.

Purdue, led by All-American halfback Leroy Keyes, has split its last two meetings with Norte Dame and its Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour aerial act. The Irish are a one-touchdown favorite Saturday.

"There's no question that Purdue is an offensive football team," Parseghian said. "Our defense is young and green. They yielded two quick touchdowns to Oklahoma and then seemed to settle down.

FAST TEAM

"Oklahoma was fast and quick with great team speed. Purdue is big and strong and after the game we should have a better idea whether we can go against a big, strong team."

Two years ago, Seymour caught three touchdown passes from Hanratty as Notre Dame won 26-14, although Keyes ran 96 yards with a fumble for a Purdue score. Last year, the versatile halfback passed, ran and kicked the Boilmakers to a 28-21 triumph and also played defense, holding Seymour to one completion although Hanratty threw 63 passes.

"If I'm not winded, I can handle Jim one-on-one, even though he's two inches taller than I am and has great moves," says Keyes.

Hanratty disagrees.

"I don't really think any defender in college football can cover Jim Seymour," he says.

KEYES

"Our big problem last year was that we couldn't contain Keyes," said Parseghian. "I don't fear him nearly as much on defense as on offense. If he covers Seymour . . . well, Hanratty is doing a much better job this year hitting his alternate receivers."

Other top games find Tulsa at Arkansas, Vanderbilt at Army, Colorado at California, Clemson at Georgia, Baylor at Michigan State, North Carolina State at Oklahoma, North Texas State at Colorado State U., Stanford at Oregon, Iowa at Texas Christian, Kentucky at Mississippi and Texas A&M at Tulane. The last three are night games.

S.F. Winter Sports Show Next Week

The 1968 San Francisco International Ski and Winter Sports Show opens next Thursday when Olympic skiing champion Jimmy Heuga presents a flaming torch to Consul General Adolpho Domenguiz of the Mexican Consulate, host nation of this year's Olympic games. The show runs through Oct. 6 at the Cow Palace.

One of the many fascinating exhibits to be seen at the show is the dramatic "Electrick Ski," a multi-media theater presentation incorporating the wide-screen projection of still photographs and motion pictures with stereophonic sound, music and live ski action. The impact of the flowing montage will approximate, as closely as possible, the come-alive fun of skiing on snow, indoors.

The overall theme of this year's show, "Ski Fever '69," will be carried out in each of the exciting features, including the "Ski Fashion Carousel," a continuous preview of the newest ski fashions; the "Ski Film Festival Theater," where prize winning ski films are shown throughout the day, and the "Fiat World's Indoor Slalom Championships," which pits five of the world's fastest skiers against one another and the clock in competition for top honors and a 124 Fiat Sport Sedan.

Show hours are Thursday from 4 to 11 p.m., Friday and Saturday from 1 p.m. to midnight, and Sunday from 1 to 9 p.m. Tickets, available at the door, are $2.50 for adults and $1 for children.

PACIFIC-8

Intersectional Football This Week

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Intersectional contests dominate the weekend football schedule tomorrow with only two Pacific-8 Conference games on tap — Washington State at UCLA and Stanford at Oregon.

The University of Southern California plays at Northwestern, Washington at Wisconsin, Oregon State at Utah and Colorado at California.

PLEASING

Last week's seasonal kickoff was generally pleasing to Pacifix-8 fans, notably the heroics of halfback O.J. Simpson and the USC Trojans' 29-20 win over tough Minnesota at Minneapolis, California's 21-7 over Michigan, achieved at Ann Arbor, and UCLA's romp over Pittsburgh, 63-7.

Sophomore Jim Nader, who stepped in for injured Bill Bolden and quarterbacked UCLA to its demolition of Pitt, goes against WSU.

Southern Cal is another overwhelming favorite over Northwestern, which was trampled by Miami in Florida, 28-7.

Rejuvenated California's Golden Bears are also picked over Colorado, which swept past Oregon, 28-7. The bears mounted a strong running attack, led by Gary Fowler, who scored three touchdowns, in whipping Michigan.

Oregon appears to be in for more trouble at Stanford. Quarterback Jim Plunkett, playing his first varsity game, led the Indians 68-20 over a usually dangerous San Jose State team. Stanford's points were the most since an 82-0 thing over UCLA in 1925.

COSTLY

Oregon State, regarded as one of the three top teams in the conference, was shaded by Iowa at Iowa City, 21-20. Three fumbles and an intercepted pass in the final quarter cost OSU, dearly. Iowa was not rated one o leading Big Ten powers.

Utah bowed to Nebraska, 31-0. Oregon State figures to bounce back and win at Salt Lake City.

Washington got a 51-yard field goal in the final five seconds to earn a 35-35 tie with Rice at Seattle. The Huskies will be the general choice to get by the Big Ten's Wisconsin at Madison. The Badgers were humiliated by Arizona State at Tempe, 55-7.

Wills Facing Suspension

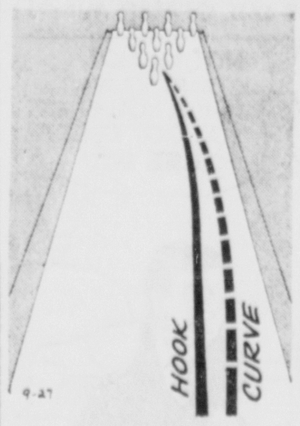
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown threatened yesterday to suspend Maury Wills without pay for the remainder of the season if the third baseman doesn't show up for today's game in Chicago.

A club spokesman said Wills refused to accompany the team to Chicago after he was fined by Brown for failing to take a required year-end physical examination.

The spokesman said Wills was the only player fined after 11 other players, who were late submitting to physicals, complied with Brown's orders.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



A small hook will bring the best results over the long run. The old-fashioned curve is just that: old-fashioned. To reduce the size of your hook, move your thumb so that it points almost straight up — at about 11 o'clock on an imaginary clock — and try to keep it that way throughout your delivery.

Orioles Whip Indians, 7-1

Baltimore (AP) — Dave McNally won his 22nd game of the season Thursday night, pitching the Baltimore Orioles to a 7-1 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

McNally helped his own cause with two hits, driving in one run and scoring twice. Brooks Robinson had three hits and three runs batted in for the Orioles.

McNally, 22-10, has won 14 of 16 decisions since the All-Star game. He allowed just six hits.

MARIN BOWLING NOTES

Wall-To-Wall Pin Action In A Very Popular Sport

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It's the start of another bowling season and if you don't believe it take a look in any of the bowling houses. You'll most likely see wall-to-wall bowling. It's a very popular sport.

New faces are in command at Greenbrae Lanes, while things look pretty much the same at Country Club Bowl in San Rafael and Nave Lanes near Ignacio.

Fred Riesenman of San Anselmo is manager, taking over for the departed Bert Lidster at Greenbrae. Assistant manager is Bob Hipes of San Rafael. The two men, both employed by Brunswick Corp., took over the managership late July.

The California Trophy Mixed Travel League sounds like it's going to have a big year. Bea Nickel, a member of the Nave Lanes team, rolled a whopping 663 series last week when the tour was at Brentwood Bowl, in South San Francisco. Her games were consistently good, 224 and 222 twice, and that's a lot of twos, too. Bea, formerly of Bel Marin Keys, now lives with her Army husband at the Presidio in San Francisco.

STRIKES TO SPARE — Lou Piver had quite a week of it at Country Club Bowl, rolling a 642 series for top score in the Weekenders League and a 255-615 in the Splinters, then picking up 10,000 stamps in the Blue Chip League . . . Kay Brem's 590 series was in the Ladies 615 Scratch, quite a score . . . Neal Hurley's 628 series at Country Club was topped by a 253 game . . . Who says Donna Bunch has a 113 average? Don't tell the guys and gals in the Twilite Twirlers League about it after her 155-158-152—465 performance . . . Karen Williams made good with the 6-7-10 split in the Bowlerettes League at Country Club Bowl.

THIS AND THAT — In the Marin County Mixed Travel League, Vern Wilson converted the 4-10 split and Sylvia Knutson the 6-7-10 . . . Kay Gould really did it! Bowling in the St. Isabella's Women's League this week, Kay rolled a triplicate series with three 136 games. Her average? Exactly that, 136 . . . Apologies go to Ann Arnott, a victim of the scissors. Ann rolled her first sanctioned 600 series when she tossed a 610 set in the Sleepers League at Country Club Bowl, but last week's column was a bit too long and that part of the story was left on the composing room floor . . . Janet Krider converted the 3-7-10 split in the Novato Unified Bowlers League at Nave Lanes.

A PIN FOR A PIN—Delores Ray was on the consistent side when she rolled games of 131-130-132 in the South Shore League at Country Club . . . Just a pin shy was Ola Balzarini in the Monday Washday League at Nave's, 101 followed by two 100's . . . Mary Henry did the impossible, according to the report from Merry Mixers League secretary Bobbie Hoover. "Mary Henry picked up the 5-7-10 split," says the message. That I would like to see . . . also in the Merry Mixers, Al Giambra went 81 pins over his average with a 218 game on his way to a 594 series.

Redwood Runners Start Strong

Sweeping the first five places for a perfect score, the Redwood High School cross-country team opened its Marin County Athletic League schedule yesterday with a 15-48 victory over Terra Linda High on the new 2.9-mile course at Phoenix Lake, Ross.

Today is Friday, Sept. 27, the 271st day of 1968 with 95 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1825, in England, George Stephenson operated the first locomotive to haul a passenger train.

In 1939, after 19 days of resisting heavy air raids and an artillery bombardment, the heroic defenders of Warsaw surrendered to the Nazis.

In 1940, Germany, Italy and Japan signed a 10-year mutual aid pact.

In 1961, Syria broke away from the United Arab Republic in a revolt led by army officers.

A thought for the day — American cartoonist William Mauldin, once said: "Look into an infantryman's eyes and soul and I'll tell you how much war he's seen."

Did Dog's Bark Help My Wife, Or Was It Her Excellent Play?

There are times when a bridge columnist is torn between love of truth and a wish to live a quiet life. Other men might weakly settle for peace, but duty to my readers compels me to tell the truth about a hand played recently in my home.

Opening lead — ♠ J

West led the jack of spades, and my wife won with the ace. She began to detach a card from her hand, but just then Honey Bear, our German shepherd, barked furiously.

My wife looked startled for a moment and dropped the deuce of hearts on the table. I was the dummy and can't really swear to it, but it did seem to me that this was not the card she was trying to detach from her hand. At any rate, West scooped the trick up with the queen of hearts and returned a trump.

My wife looked dazed for a moment (I think) but then smiled at me with triumph in her eyes. She won in dummy, ruffed a spade with the king of hearts, returned to dummy with the ace of diamonds and ruffed a spade with the ace of trumps.

NO FURTHER PROBLEM

There was no further problem. Declarer could lead her last trump to dummy and lead the jack of hearts, discarding the low diamond from her hand. The king of diamonds and the good clubs then assured the slam.

"It was a brilliant play," I gushed at the end of the hand. "You wouldn't have made the slam if you had led the ace of trumps first."

'OBVIOUS PLAY'

"Of course," my wife replied impatiently. "It was an obvious play."

We never did find out what Honey Bear was barking at. It is only my passion for the truth that makes me believe that she thought my wife was going to spoil a beautiful bridge hand by by leading a high trump. What do you think?

Market On High Side At Close

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher in active trading today.

The market opened on a firm tone, quickly turned mixed, then stubbornly edged onto higher ground.

Steels, motors, farm implements, aircrafts, most metals, rails, tobaccos and drugs moved up. Airlines generally lost ground and building materials were lower.

A number of changes ranged to more than a point.

Xerox, which announced negotiations with CIT for a combination of the two companies, was intermittently halted in trading and was off 18⅞ at 270⅛. Trading in CIT had not resumed with the stock up 1⅜ at 47⅛.

Trading was halted in Xerox pending an announcement. When it came, the news was that the big copying machine maker and CIT Financial, independent sales finance company, were conducting negotiations toward a combination of the two firms.

Motors strengthened after earlier weakness. General Motors swept back from the minus column to show a gain of ¼ and Ford, Chrysler and American Motors added fractions.

Oils and airlines continued lower while tobaccos held mostly higher. Rails were generally strong. Metals and chemicals strengthened after having been on the downside.

Bank Of Marin Seeks New Branch

Bank of Marin, rapidly expanding into a chain banking operation, has filed an application with the state Banking Department for permission to establish a branch in Northgate Industrial Park.

The proposed office would be at 25 Mitchell Boulevard in a building to be built and owned by Ronald Antonioli, Inc., which is scheduled for completion next February.

This is the third application within six months for branch offices filed by Bank of Marin. It has applied for others in East San Rafael and Larkspur. It now has three offices: the main bank at Fifth Avenue and B Street in San Rafael and branches in Petaluma and Novato.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Splits, Share Sales Often Depressants

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Recent experiences have made me wonder. After an additional share offering by a company or after a split, shares always seem to drop. Why? — R.B.

A. Prior to a split, shares are frequently bid up by traders hoping to benefit from increased buying in the lower-priced shares. Once the split takes place these short-term traders sell out, causing a drop in share price which is usually temporary.

When a company sells new or treasury shares — stock that was authorized but not outstanding — these shares have a depressant effect on the market because they will dilute earnings. For example, company "A" has 5 million outstanding shares and earns $5 million, or $1 a share. "A" now sells an additional 1 million shares so that the $5 million income must be divided among the 6 million shares. The resulting per share earnings are then 83 cents, rather than $1.

Q. Should we hold or sell Ford Motors, American Telephone and Deere & Co., each of which shows a loss? We are interested in building up our capital. — R.H.

A. Drumbeating on the part of some automotive company spokesmen predicting record car sales will probably continue to produce near-term action in the shares. Because recovery in sales and earnings over 1967's strike-depressed levels is anticipated for Ford, shares should be retained.

Poor action in Deere & Co. shares followed depressed earnings, resulting from narrowing margins and losses in European markets. A strike in the first quarter, which restricted production, will probably hold fiscal 1968 income below the 1967 figures. However, leading market indicators point to an improved level of sales for agricultural equipment. On this basis, I advise holding.

Although Am. Telephone has been the subject of repeated favorable recommendations from brokerage houses and advisory services, selling pressures continue to overhang the shares. With the various adverse developments fully discounted, Telephone appears to be on the bargain counter.
